Figure S9: DExTER accuracy for predicting H2AZ, H3K9ac and H3K4me3 histone marks. Grey charts represent the accuracy, measured as the correlation between predicted and observed histone mark signal, on 4 time-points. Colored curves summarize the accuracy of a model learned on a specific time point when used to predict other time points of the same series.