TRANSMISSION IN ENGLISH

Communication exposes in two directions. One is verbal and other one is non-verbal.

Communication reciprocates in words and sounds. This is called verbal communication. And information transforms into signals eye gaze, attitude and visual communication is called non verbal communication. Verbal communication constitutes vocal and written transmission. Vocal transmission skills incorporate the abilities to state efficaciously and listen energetic and answer successfully as claimed by the circumstances. It is helps to the Under Graduate students to facing interviews, attending meetings, lectures, phone conversations, video conferences.

Communicative abilities would entirely giving best chances to the Under Graduate students.

Learning most of the languages can stand the business world.

There are 1160 degree colleges including 169 colleges in Hyderabad. Of 1160 colleges in Telangana, only 135 are accredited by NAAC. National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF) by MHRD not a single college from Telangana made it to the list of top -100 colleges. Compared to this Tamil Nadu had 38 colleges in the list, Kerala had 17, Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh had three and two colleges respectively.

FOCUS NEEDED ON QUALITY

English language skills and employability are interrelated in any field in the world. So many courses are designed to teach English as a skill. So as to enhance this English language competencies along with their technical or professional improvement. A good language lab should provide the students to enhance their communication skills also. But in Under Graduate level students faces so many problems. Because they need to good learning labs in their colleges.

So many degree colleges no infrastructure for better learning. The government should provide these facilities for better learning and employability. These skills are helpful to the students to cracking their interviews. Experts are of the opinion that getting down the number of seats in private degree colleges will improve quality of education. In my opinion working as a lecturer in government degree college, as I am observing from 2009 to till now there is unhealthy competition in filling up degree admissions. Most of the students prefer to join in Engineering and diploma courses past few years. So this is the main reason to merge so many degree colleges in Telangana. Every year of the 4, 07 lakh seats available in about all degree colleges those were part of degree online services in Telangana. For admissions, almost 2.10 lakh seats went vacant even after four phases of counselling. Lack of strict quality control measures in degree colleges by universities which provide affiliated like O.U., K.U. and M.G.U. is a major drawback. As per collegiate education there are about 274 courses available in degree colleges across the state.
