Instructions
This replication package contains code (do-files) and data to reproduce the findings presented in the paper and online supplementary materials.

The do-files, data, and outputs are organized in separate folders (one folder for dofiles (code), data, and output). This structure is important to keep when running all code, as each do-file calls on specific data etc. in specific paths.

To reproduce all results, simply run the script "master.do". Please be aware that the R codes must be run before Figure 1 (and Figure SM21) can be produced. The R codes make the necessary pre-analysis modifications for these analyses.

Make sure to specify the appropriate working directory for your machine in the Master.do.

Each figure in the main manuscript has its own do-file. To find code for a specific output, please go to the scripts in these folders.

All outputs are saved in a folder called "output", and all data is stored in a folder called "data".

The files may be run in the following order:

0_master.do

Cleaning data

1_cleaning.do // cleaning data for US, India, and ZA surveys

Convert cleaned data to Excel files that can be used for the text analyses (Figure 1)

2_converting.do

Before proceeding to Figure 1, you must run the R codes to make pre-analysis modifications

3_preptext_IN.R

4_preptext_ZA.R

5_preptext_US.R

Making figures and tables for the manuscript and supplementary analyses

6_Figure1.do // Makes Figure 1 and Table SM2

7_Figure2.do //Makes Figure 2, Tables SM3, and SM4

8_Figure3.do //Makes Figure 3, Tables SM5, and SM6

9_Figure4.do //Makes Figure 4, and Table SM7

Supplementary results

10_supplementary_analyses.do //makes Figures SM6-SM16 in the supplementary material

11_FigureSM5_TableSM8.do //makes Figure SM5 and Table SM8 in the supplementary material

12_FigureSM21.do //makes Figure SM21 in the supplementary material
