Readme: Dynamic Screening in International Crises

1 Data

Descriptive statistics regarding the amount of militarized interstate disputes that do not escalate to war and end in stalemates and stalemates that end without negotiated outcomes is provided in the discussion section of the paper following the main analysis. These numbers were derived using version 4.2 of the Correlates of War Project's Militarized Interstate Dispute dataset.

The figures produced in the online appendix are based on numerical simulations of the model and require no data to run.
