detail

Although not enforceable at law, these organizations agree to adhere to the principles set out in this MoU and will show proper regard for each other's activities.

role

Doing archives improves the management and operations of agencies or institutions responsible for the preservation and communication of records selected for permanent preservation.

01.01 Doing archives develops no cost interactive online classes and MOOCs hosted at an EdX destination (MOOC.org). Courses are designed to be interesting, fun and offer open badges - a credential to demonstrate the learner's knowledge achievements.

01.02 Doing archives curates persistent data sets on the the management and operations of agencies or institutions. We look at these organisations and measure the legal and administrative regulations through the life cycle of their records. Data is comprehensive and quantitative. Data facilitates comparisons across countries and over time. Each archival organization is measured, participants adding data decrease their 'distance to frontier' measures by providing verifiable information. Project data is permanent, curated and shared. Those who add data points receive open badges - - a verified indicia of trustworthy and accessible practices.

01.03 Doing archives offers detailed reports, which exhaustively provide data, rank each location, and recommend reforms to improve performance in each of the indicator areas. We provide an objective basis for understanding and improving archival organisations. Reporting organizations are offered open badges - a verified indicia of trustworthy and accessible practices.

02.01 New England Archivists promotes professional and scholarly cooperation and communication between archives and archivists and their communities. Data collection, analysis and education increases global cooperation / communications and produces a leveling effect. It also promotes efficiency by reducing education transaction costs. This work moves people towards a information frontier.

02.02 New England Archivists promotes archive services value. Data collection and analysis assists in the global definition of value. It also promotes efficiency by reducing data transaction and redundancy costs. This work moves people towards a standards frontier.

02.03 New England Archivists promotes recognition of an archival professional status. Free, massive scale training / education assists in the global provision and maintenance of opportunities, producing a leveling effect among high and low resource organisations. It also promotes efficiency by reducing education transaction and opportunity costs. This work moves people towards a opportunity frontier.

02.04 New England Archivists promotes recognition of an archival trustworthiness / open accessibility standard. Data collection and analysis assists in the global definition and maintenance of that standard. It also promotes efficiency by reducing compliance, transaction and operations costs. This work moves people towards a standards + opportunity frontier.
