Replication Data for "Conditional Receptivity to Citizen Participation: Evidence from a Survey Experiment in China"

Tianguang Meng, Jennifer Pan, Ping Yang

The steps below outline the procedures we followed in writing this article:

1) Data collection: researchers interested in acquiring the raw survey data used in this analysis should contact Tianguang Meng (maxmeng@mail.tsinghua.edu.cn). To protect human subjects and to ensure compliance with local regulations, these data can only be accessed in China with the approval and supervision of Tianguang Meng and Ping Yang.

2) Generating results: in files accompanying this document, you will find R code and data to generate all the plots and empirical results found in our article. Documentation of code and data can be found within these files.
