RAJOURI, Nov 7: Yet another incident of stone pelting in a busy locality of Rajouri town created panic and tension here this evening.

Reports said the miscreants trying to create tension in the town for the last over two weeks, today again pelted a stone near busy market in ward No. 8 in the Rajouri town at around 6.15 pm. There was power shut down in the locality and the stone landed near the shop of one Girdhari Lal. Many people gathered there and the police party also rushed there and started investigation. Tension was created for some time.

This is happening since Oct 25, when for the first time a stone was hurled in the busy City Chowk area of Rajouri town at around 8 pm. The power supply was off that time. It again happened on October 26, November 3 and November 5 and now again on November7.

Though some policemen have also been deployed in plain clothes but the miscreants could not be arrested. Interestingly, this is happening after taking over charge by the new SSP. The police is trying its best to expose the mischief mongers trying to disturb the peace especially when the elections are drawing nearer.
