Technical Sheet: Database on Labor Movements in Latin America (1990-2020)

Category	Details
Objective	Analyze the evolution, determinants, and impacts of labor movements in Latin America between 1990 and 2020.
Design	Longitudinal comparative study of 17 Latin American countries with annual data.
Instrument	Review of secondary literature, national monographic reports, and coding of qualitative and quantitative variables.
Thematic Coverage	Organizational strength, links with institutional politics, centrality in civil society, demands, tactics, repression, and resources of labor movements.
Unit of Analysis	Country-year (527 country-year combinations).
Target Population	Labor movements and their main organizations in 17 Latin American countries.
Sample Size	527 observations (17 countries × 31 years).
Funding	National Agency for Research and Development (ANID) of Chile, Fondecyt Regular 1200190.
Principal Investigator	Nicolás M. Somma.
Source	Own elaboration based on MovLab: Labor Movements in Latin America. Methodology and Codebook (version 1.0).