SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

The Chief Justice said:

"I have the honor to announce, on behalf of the Court, that the October 1996 Term of the Supreme Court of the United States is now closed, and the October 1997 Term is now convened. The Court now recognizes the Attorney General, Janet Reno."

The Attorney General said:

"Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court. I have the honor to present to the Court the Acting Solicitor General, Seth P. Waxman of the District of Columbia."

The Chief Justice said:

"Mr. Acting Solicitor General, the Court welcomes you to the performance of the important office that you have assumed, to represent the government of the United States before this Court. We wish you well in your office.

"As we open this morning, I note with sadness that our friend and colleague, William Joseph Brennan, Jr., a retired Justice of this Court, died on July 24, 1997, at Arlington, Virginia.

"Born in Newark, New Jersey, on April 25, 1906, William Brennan was the second of eight children born to Irish parents who emigrated to the United States in 1890. An outstanding student from an early age, he was an honor student of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and graduated high in his class at Harvard Law School.

"Justice Brennan joined a prominent New Jersey law firm where he specialized in labor law. He was an Army officer during World War II and served on the staff of the Undersecretary of War. Following a brief return to private practice after the war, he began his judicial career. He moved rapidly from the state trial bench to the New Jersey Supreme Court. President Eisenhower nominated him to this Court in 1956.

"Justice Brennan authored many landmark opinions while on the bench of this Court. He became a champion of an expansive view of constitutional protection of individual rights. Following his retirement in 1990 after 33 years on this bench, Justice Brennan often frequented the building and continued a warm relationship with his former colleagues.

"The members of this Court will greatly miss Justice Brennan's wit and his friendly, buoyant spirit, and I speak for them in expressing our profound sympathy to Mrs. Brennan, to his daughter and two sons, and to all those whose lives were touched by this remarkable man. The recess the Court takes this month will be in his memory. At an appropriate time, the traditional memorial observance of the Court and the Bar of this Court will be held in this Courtroom.

"Today's orders of the Court have been certified by The Chief Justice, filed with the Clerk, and will not be announced orally."

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

The Chief Justice said:

"The Court is in special session this afternoon to receive the Resolutions of the Bar of the Supreme Court in tribute to our former colleague and friend, Justice William J. Brennan.

"The Court recognizes the Solicitor General.

Mr. Solicitor General Waxman addressed the Court as follows:

"Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court: At a meeting today of the Bar of this Court, Resolutions memorializing our deep respect and affection for Justice Brennan were unanimously adopted. With the Court's leave, I shall summarize the Resolutions and ask that they be set forth in their entirety in the records of the Court.

"RESOLUTION"

"William Joseph Brennan, Jr., graced this Court for 34 extraordinary years. Appointed in 1956 by President Eisenhower, his service spanned eight presidencies, seventeen Congresses, and 146 volumes of the United States Reports. His unique qualities of mind and heart touched the lives of one-fifth of all Justices that have served on this Court, 112 law clerks, each of whom became part of the Justice's extended family, the full complement of the Court's support personnel, all of whom he regarded and treated as valued friends, and countless members of the Bar.

"His life was the embodiment of the American dream, and his judicial career was a sustained effort to allow others to share in that dream. Born in 1906 to Irish immigrant parents, he was enormously influenced by his father, a coal worker, labor union and reform politician who intended his son for the bar, and by the circumstances of his upbringing.

"What got me interested in people's rights and liberties, the Justice would later recall, was the kind of neighborhood I was brought up in. I saw all kinds of suffering. People had to struggle.

"Justice Brennan married Marjorie Leonard just before he graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with honors in economics. The Justice was deeply devoted to Marjorie for 54 years, and their three children, Bill, III, Hugh, and Nancy, were a constant source of joy and comfort to them both.

"At Harvard Law School, Bill Brennan's performance earned him acceptance by the Legal Aid Society, where he experienced firsthand the power of the law to affect the lives of the weak.

"Because his father had died during his second year at Harvard, after graduation it fell to the Justice to support his mother, his wife, and six siblings. He joined the most prestigious law firm in Newark, its first Catholic lawyer, and later its first Catholic partner.

"In 1942, at the age of 36, Justice Brennan volunteered for the Army. Assigned to Los Angeles, he oversaw the massive influx of women into civilian defense jobs. Despite housing shortages, he refused to take the easy route of commandeering the homes of interned Japanese-Americans. Awarded the Legion of Merit, he left the Army at the rank of full colonel.

"After the war, the Justice rose rapidly in the private bar. He developed a reputation as impeccably fair and gracious, both at the bar and in the public arena. Though his livelihood depended on management-side labor work, he spoke out in support of the right to strike, and in favor of legislation to prohibit employer intimidation of union members, but he also urged labor to accept its responsibilities not to invade or trample upon the rights of other groups, and he vigorously condemned racial discrimination by unions.

"In 1949, Justice Brennan began his judicial career on the New Jersey trial bench. Soon thereafter, he was appointed to the Appellate Division, and then elevated to the State supreme court. The Resolution discusses his important work on that court.

"During his extraordinary life, Justice Brennan's legendary energy level waned only once, when Marjorie lost a sustained battle with cancer in 1982. The Justice himself had conquered throat cancer, which almost cost him his voice, but it was Marjorie's death that sent his morale plummeting.

"His zest for life returned in 1983, when he married Mary Fowler, his secretary of 26 years. Mary brought the Justice a new spring in his step and renewed energy. The two shared a special love and a lot of history.

"One key to the power of the Brennan judicial legacy is the harmony between the Justice's life and his work. The personal traits we most remember were his love of people and his ability to put himself in others' shoes. Virtually everyone who encountered Justice Brennan has a story of his kindness, and he acknowledged his antagonists as he embraced his adherents, as fellow human beings worthy of love, toleration, and respect.

"Justice Brennan understood the wonder of a democratic society that could lift the son of a penniless immigrant to the highest Court in the land and not seem to notice that anything extraordinary had occurred.

"Because he believed that the essence of American democracy is its commitment to respect the equal, innate dignity of every human being, Justice Brennan dedicated his judicial career to building a legal system that reinforces true democracy by preserving its indispensable building blocks, individuals living in freedom, mutual toleration, and respect.

"The sweep and power of Justice Brennan's contribution to American law challenges our collective imaginations. He authored 533 opinions for the Court, 694 dissents, and 346 concurrences.

"Our ideal of democracy flows from his historic opinion for the Court in Baker v. Carr.

"Our modern conception of free speech was articulated in his opinions for the Court in New York Times v. Sullivan, Texas v. Johnson, and Brandenburg v. Ohio.

"Our understanding of freedom of association was shaped by NAACP v. Button, Elrod v. Burns, and Roberts v. United States Jaycees.

"Our commitment to academic freedom was defined in Keyishian. The doctrine of unconstitutional conditions flows from Justice Brennan's opinions in Speiser v. Randall, and League of Women Voters.

"Contemporary protection for the free exercise of religion begins with his opinion for the Court in Sherbert v. Verner.

"Our modern understanding of the Establishment Clause, initially propounded in his separate opinion in Abington School District v. Schempp, was classically restated in Justice Brennan's opinion for the Court in Edwards v. Aguillard.

"Our commitment to equality before the law was deepened and advanced by opinions he prepared in Cooper v. Aaron, Green v. County School Board, Keyes, Frontiero, and Craig v. Boren.

"Our contemporary understanding of procedural fairness was shaped by Jencks, Bruton, Winship, and Goldberg v. Kelly.

"Our approach to collective bargaining and the rights of the individual employee in that process was influenced by Communications Workers v. Beck, and Boys Markets.

"Our modern understanding of the preeminent role of Federal courts as guarantors of individual liberty is based on Justice Brennan's opinions for the Court in cases like Monell, Bivens, and Cooper.

"The Resolution discusses Justice Brennan's contributions in each of these areas.

"When he wrote in dissent, Justice Brennan spoke to the future. His sustained and passionate efforts with respect to capital punishment, his concern for nontextual rights inherent in human dignity, his defense of habeas corpus, his efforts to preserve the wall between church and State, his defense of free speech in those relatively rare settings when he was unable to persuade a majority of the Court to embrace his vision of the First Amendment, his endorsement of carefully targeted affirmative action, his scholarly effort to reinterpret the Eleventh Amendment all stand as reminders of what seemed unfinished business to Justice Brennan.

"Justice Brennan's contribution to American thought is deeper than substantive outcomes or doctrinal innovations. His passionate effort to read the Bill of Rights in defense of the innate dignity of the individual, not as an alienated island but as a participant in a democracy of equals, has enriched our concept of judging.

"Healthy debate will continue over the role of a constitutional judge in a vibrant democracy, but time and debate can only enhance Justice Brennan's status as the archetype of a Justice passionately devoted to individual rights.

"Wherefore, it is accordingly

"RESOLVED, that we, as representative members of the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, express our deep sadness at the death of Justice Brennan, our condolences to the Brennan family, and our profound admiration for Justice Brennan's matchless contributions to the cause of human dignity; and it is further

"RESOLVED, that the Solicitor General be asked to present these Resolutions to the Court, and that the Attorney General be asked to move that they be inscribed on the Court's permanent record."

The Chief Justice said:

"Thank you, Mr. Solicitor General. I recognize the Attorney General of the United States."

Attorney General Reno addressed the Court as follows:

"Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court:

"The Bar of the Court met today to honor the memory of William J. Brennan, Jr., Associate Justice of the Supreme Court from 1956 to 1990. While recognizing Justice Brennan's extraordinary contributions to this Court and impact on the legal world in a wide variety of areas, I will limit these remarks to just a few examples of Justice Brennan's contributions to constitutional jurisprudence.

"Justice Brennan served on this Court for 34 years. His role was central in the Court's expansion during that era of the substance of the Constitution's protection of individual rights, as well as in the Court's strengthening of the remedies available for the enforcement of those rights.

"Justice Brennan's contributions to the development of the law are perhaps most striking in the Court's free speech cases. In his opinion for the Court in Speiser v. Randall, for example, Justice Brennan introduced the concept of the chilling effect. Explaining that the man who knows that he must bring forth proof and persuade another of the lawfulness of his conduct necessarily must steer far wider of the unlawful zone than if the State must bear these burdens.

"Six years later came New York Times v. Sullivan, one of the leading free speech cases of this century. Justice Brennan articulated the fundamental principle of the opinion, and one of the foundations of this Court's First Amendment jurisprudence.

"In oft-quoted language, he stated that the Court considers this case against the background of a profound national commitment to the principle that debate on public issues should be uninhibited, robust, and wide open, and that it may well include vehement, caustic, and sometimes unpleasantly sharp attacks on Government and public officials.

"New York Times v. Sullivan is a characteristic example of Justice Brennan's recognition that the provisions of the Bill of Rights and the Civil War amendments embody core values and principles that remain valid even where their vindication requires significant alteration in hitherto accepted principles of State law.

"In NAACP v. Button, the Court held that the State of Virginia could not prohibit NAACP lawyers from giving legal advice to citizens of Virginia. Modern conceptions of vagueness and over-breadth trace their roots to Justice Brennan's opinion for the Court in this case, which once again relied on the chilling effect rationale he had first elaborated in Speiser.

"In the two flag-burning cases that came before the Court in Justice Brennan's last two terms, Texas v. Johnson, and United States v. Eichman, Justice Brennan spoke for the Court in holding the statutes unconstitutional. As Justice Brennan explained in Johnson: Our decision is a reaffirmation of the principles of freedom and inclusiveness that the flag best reflects, and of the conviction that our toleration of criticisms such as Johnson's is a sign and a source of our strength.

"Justice Brennan was a leading exponent of the need to maintain separation of church and State under the Establishment Clause, as articulated in his influential concurring opinion in Abington School District v. Schempp.

"As he explained in that opinion, it is not only the nonbeliever who fears the injection of sectarian doctrines and controversies into the civil polity, but in as high degree it is the devout believer who fears the secularization of a creed which becomes too deeply involved with, and dependent upon, the Government.

"Justice Brennan also spoke for the Court in a major Free Exercise Clause case, Sherbert v. Verner, which eloquently set forth one side of the debate regarding whether strict governmental neutrality is sufficient to satisfy the constitutional command of the clause.

"The same underlying philosophy provided the foundation for Justice Brennan's notable contribution to the jurisprudence of the Equal Protection Clause. As is by now well-known, he wrote most of the opinion, signed by all nine members of the Court, in Cooper v. Aaron.

"Justice Brennan's seminal opinion upholding the constitutionality of substantive provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 in Katzenbach v. Morgan marked a crucial milestone in the struggle for equal voting rights, and in Thornburgh v. Gingles, Justice Brennan again wrote for the Court in setting forth the basic analytical structure that would govern the interpretation of the amended section 2 of the Voting Rights Act.

"Perhaps even more than in the area of race discrimination, Justice Brennan's application of the Equal Protection Clause in gender discrimination cases has had a lasting impact on the law. In Frontiero v. Richardson, Justice Brennan's plurality opinion recognized that statutory distinctions between the sexes often have the effect of invidiously relegating the entire class of females to inferior legal status without regard to the actual capabilities of its individual members.

"Although he was writing only for a plurality in Frontiero, the Court adopted Justice Brennan's views in Craig v. Boren, as well as his further articulation of the standard governing gender discrimination under the Equal Protection Clause. Classifications by gender must serve important governmental objectives, and must be substantially related to the achievement of those objectives.

"In his ground-breaking opinion for the Court in Goldberg v. Kelly, Justice Brennan first applied due process standards to a State's decision to terminate welfare payments.

"In Shapiro v. Thompson, Justice Brennan spoke for the Court in striking down longstanding State residency requirements for welfare as a burden on the right to travel.

"In Eisenstadt v. Baird, Justice Brennan wrote an important opinion that was a crucial stepping stone in the development of the right to privacy, and in Penn Central Transportation Company v. New York City, Justice Brennan set forth for the Court the fundamental analysis that continues to govern the adjudication of claims that Government regulation of private property constitutes a taking.

"Justice Brennan's contributions were not limited to civil cases. He wrote for the Court in Malloy v. Hogan, holding that the Fifth Amendment's protection against compelled self-incrimination applied to the States.

"In In Re Winship, Justice Brennan, again writing for the Court, articulated the central due process principle of proof beyond a reasonable doubt in criminal cases.

"In Bruton v. United States, the Court applied the Confrontation Clause to defendants who were tried jointly.

"An important element in Justice Brennan's jurisprudence was his belief that remedial avenues must be available to ensure that constitutional protections can be enforced. For example, in Baker v. Carr, Justice Brennan wrote for the Court, holding that claims of malapportionment in State legislatures were justiciable.

"In Bivens v. Six Unknown Named Agents of Federal Bureau of Narcotics, Justice Brennan set forth for the Court the principles permitting implication of a cause of action directly under the Constitution.

"In Monell v. Department of Social Services, Justice Brennan wrote an opinion for the Court opening the door to damage actions under 42 U. S. C. 1983 against municipal bodies for constitutional violations.

"Of course, the Court has not always accepted Justice Brennan's views and, especially in his later years on the Court, he found himself frequently in dissent. In light of the numerous areas of which Justice Brennan's work proved seminal in the development of the law in the 20th Century, the fact that the Court has not always agreed with his views should come as no surprise, but it can be safely said that, as the Court continues to address new problems in these areas, it will continue to confront the challenges presented by Justice Brennan.

"Justice Brennan's judicial philosophy was based on the need for constant vigilance to apply the principles of human liberty embodied in the Bill of Rights and the Fourteenth Amendment to ever new arrangements and new institutions. His vision of the Constitution as embodying a fundamental charter of human liberty will endure and will continue to be reflected in this Court's jurisprudence."

"Mr. Chief Justice, on behalf of the lawyers of this Nation and, in particular, of the Bar of this Court, I respectfully request that the Resolutions presented to you in honor and celebration of the memory of Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., be accepted by the Court, and that they, together with the chronicle of these proceedings, be ordered kept for all time in the records of this Court."

The Chief Justice said:

"Thank you, Attorney General Reno, thank you, General Waxman, for your presentations today in memory of our late colleague and friend, William J. Brennan.

"We also extend to Chairman Burt Neuborne and the members of the Committee on Resolutions, Chairman Daniel Rezneck and members of the Arrangements Committee, Judge Abner Mikva, chairman of today's meeting of the Bar, our appreciation for the Resolutions you have read today.

"Your motion that they be made part of the permanent record of the Court is hereby granted.

"Bill Brennan's service on this Court and his contributions to American law are an imposing achievement. He took the oath of office as a Justice of this Court on October 16, 1956, at the age of 50. After fulfilling his responsibilities under three Chief Justices and alongside 19 Associate Justices, he retired on July 20, 1990, at the age of 84.

"His period of service, just a couple of months short of 34 years, is one that has been exceeded by only five other Justices in the 208-year history of this Court's existence, but Justice Brennan's profound influence on American law can't be measured simply by counting the number of years he sat in one of the chairs behind this bench.

"An accurate assessment can only be made after one has studied many of the 1,000-plus opinions he authored during his long career, many of them landmark decisions by this Court. His majority opinions alone number well over 400. These opinions, filling thousands of pages of this Court's official reports, demonstrate Justice Brennan's scholarly expertise, as well as his keen reasoning abilities.

"In Baker v. Carr, for example, which the Resolutions comment on, he wrote the opinion that for the first time subjected the apportionment of State legislatures to the requirements of the Fourteenth Amendment's Equal Protection Clause.

"Before this decision, controversies regarding the radically unequal voting districts that existed at the time came to the Supreme Court under what is called the Republican Guarantee Clause. The Supreme Court had declined to decide such cases because the Guarantee Clause lacked judicially manageable standards which courts could utilize in cases brought before them.

"Malapportionment of State legislatures therefore had been considered political questions outside the Federal judiciary's jurisdiction and, while the Federal courts thus declined to address the problem, State legislatures were also unwilling to act, because those who benefited from the existing electoral system were the ones who were making the law.

"Justice Brennan cut this Gordian knot by shifting the issue of the constitutionality of malapportionment from the Guarantee Clause to the Equal Protection Clause. His opinion in Baker v. Carr took the first step in the direction of the now well-accepted practice and principle of one person, one vote, and in so doing changed the nature of American politics forever.

"Justice Brennan's opinion for the Court in New York Times v. Sullivan, also commented on in the Resolutions, has a stature in our constitutional history equal to that of Baker v. Carr, and as the Resolutions indicate, prior to the Sullivan decision, slander and libel law were left to the States, with few constitutional restrictions. These rules stifled criticism of public officials, and the result was a less-informed public.

"The Court in Sullivan, relying on freedom of speech and on what Justice Brennan called our profound national commitment to the principle that debate on public issues should be uninhibited, robust, and wide open, sharply changed these traditional rules of libel law. The Court's opinion held that any public official who was a plaintiff in a libel case had to prove that the statements in question were defamatory, false, and made with actual malice.

"These developments in libel law altered the rules of the game of American politics, and speech, as a matter of fact, making American public officials more accountable, the American media more watchful, and the American people better informed.

"I've mentioned just two opinions that Justice Brennan authored that have a special place in our Nation's history. There are others that have been mentioned in the Resolution, and I'm sure still others that have not been mentioned by anyone today, because there were so many of his opinions that played an important role in the development of our law.

"There are dozens of other significant opinions he wrote for the Court, and yet the great body of law for which he was responsible may be only but half of the contribution he made to this Court.

"Those of us who had the pleasure of serving with Bill Brennan know what a wonderful human being he was, combining a friendly spirit with a highly analytical mind dedicated to justice. Blessed with such attributes, Justice Brennan was a force for civility and good relationship among his colleagues.

"During some periods in the Court's history, differences on constitutional questions have affected personal relationships among the Justices and complicated the work of the Court. In contrast, Justice Brennan was a unifying influence on the bench, often guiding the Court to a majority or unanimous opinion.

"And when the divisions on the Court on constitutional issues were too deep and broad to be bridged, Justice Brennan never allowed such disagreements to affect the way he treated his colleagues. Warmhearted, polite, courteous, Bill Brennan inspired these same qualities in his colleagues, even those who disagreed with him.

"His career exemplifies the happy truth that a judge need not be a prima donna to have a lasting influence on our country's laws. He will have a high place in the annals of this Court and in its jurisprudence."

Recess Order

The Court will take a recess from today until the first Monday in October, 1998, at which time the October 1997 Term will adjourn.

Justice Stevens said:

"I am authorized to announce that the Court has acted upon all cases submitted to the Court for decision. Accordingly, it is ordered that those cases remaining on the docket, but not ready for consideration, are continued to the session of the Court beginning October 5, 1998. The Court will be in recess from today until the first Monday in October, 1998, at which time the October 1997 Term of the Court will be adjourned and the October 1998 Term of the Court will begin as provided by statute.

"The members of the Court thank all of the Supreme Court staff for their outstanding work and their continued devotion to duty during this Term. The Court, the Bar, and the public recognize the diligent work, commitment, and professionalism of the Court staff. The fine work done by the Court staff contributes significantly to the accomplishment of the Court's mission."
