"Mr. Stewart, our records reflect that this was your 100th oral argument before the Court. You are the fourth to reach this rare milestone this century.

"Throughout your career, you have consistently advocated positions on behalf of the United States in an exemplary manner.

"I recall one case from my days in private practice 23 years ago in which I was counsel for petitioner and you argued in support of respondent. When the opinion came down, I was just nine votes short of a unanimous result for my client.

"On behalf of the Court, I extend to you our appreciation for your advocacy before the Court and dedicated service as an officer of this Court. We look forward to hearing from you many more times."

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Thomas, Justice Alito, Justice Sotomayor, Justice Kagan, Justice Gorsuch, Justice Kavanaugh, Justice Barrett, and Justice Jackson.

The Chief Justice said:

"I note that memorial drapery has been placed on the door of our courtroom to signify mourning for Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, who died on Friday, December 1.

"Justice O'Connor was born on March 26, 1930. From the start, her home was the Lazy B Ranch in Arizona. Her birth itself was in El Paso, Texas, only because that was the closest full hospital to Lazy B, a mere four hours by train. She was, in her own words, a cowgirl from the Arizona desert. In 1952, she married John Jay O'Connor, III by the fireplace in the Lazy B living room.

"By then, she had received her B.A. and LL.B. from Stanford University. Although she graduated third in her law school class, just two places from her friend and future colleague William H. Rehnquist, no law firm would offer an interview — let alone a job — to a female lawyer. Instead, she took an unpaid position working for the district attorney of San Mateo, California.

"In 1954 John O'Connor was commissioned in the Judge Advocate Corps of the Army and went to JAG school in Charlottesville, Virginia. One day, the O'Connors drove up to Washington to see the Supreme Court. John commented, erroneously, that 'this is the first and last time we'll ever see the place.'

"He was posted to Frankfurt, Germany, where she worked as a civilian attorney for the quartermaster market center. Upon returning to the United States, the O'Connors settled in Phoenix. They welcomed three sons between 1957 and 1962. Future Justice O'Connor opened a law practice and began taking an active role in local politics.

"In 1965, Sandra Day O'Connor became an assistant attorney general. In 1969, she was appointed to fill a vacant seat in the Arizona State Senate. After winning a full term and then re-election, she was chosen to be Senate Majority Leader, the first woman in the country to hold that position.

"In 1975, then-Majority Leader O'Connor left the legislature to become judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court. In 1979, the governor of Arizona elevated then-Judge O'Connor to the Arizona Court of Appeals. She was a founder of both the Arizona Women Lawyers Association and the National Association of Women Judges.

"In August 1981, President Reagan nominated Sandra Day O'Connor to the Supreme Court of the United States. She won unanimous confirmation — 99 to 0 — thus becoming the first woman on the Supreme Court.

"Always putting one foot in front of the other — 'just do it,' she would say — she changed the world. Skiing, tennis, golf, bridge, ballroom dancing were all passions she brought to her broad circle of friends. Participants in the morning aerobics class Justice O'Connor founded at the Supreme Court would hear about it if they missed a session. Lunch together for the Justices was in her view mandatory to promote collegiality. With irresistible force of will and constant motion, she yoked the Justices together — and pressed forward.

"Justice O'Connor served as a sitting Associate Justice for more than 24 years. During her time on the Court, she authored 645 majority, concurring, and dissenting opinions. She retired from the Court on January 31, 2006. For many years, she remained active as a jurist, sitting by designation on several courts of appeals, and in tirelessly promoting civic education.

"Justice O'Connor is survived by her three children: Scott O'Connor, Brian O'Connor, and Jay O'Connor; and six grandchildren. Our condolences go to her children, extended family, and countless admirers. Justice O'Connor made our country better by her work and her example.

"At an appropriate time, the traditional memorial service of the Court and Bar will be held in our courtroom.

"And now — as Justice O'Connor would somewhat impatiently insist — we turn to the business of the Court".
