Oral Arguments

No. 132, Original. State of Alabama, et al., Plaintiffs v. State of North Carolina. Argued by Mr. Carter G. Phillips for the plaintiffs, by Mr. Edwin S. Kneedler for the United States as amicus curiae, by special leave of the Court, supporting neither party, and by Mr. Walter Dellinger for the defendant.

No. 07–11191. Mark A. Briscoe and Sheldon A. Cypress, Petitioners v. Virginia. Argued by Mr. Richard D. Friedman for the petitioners, by Mr. Solicitor General Stephen R. McCullough for the respondent, and by Ms. Leondra R. Kruger for the United States as amicus curiae, by special leave of the Court, supporting the respondent.

Order in Pending Case

No. 09A648. Dennis Hollingsworth, et al., Applicants v. Kristin M. Perry, et al. Upon consideration of the application for stay presented to Justice Kennedy and by him referred to the Court, it is ordered that the order of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, case No. 3:09–cv-02292, permitting real-time streaming is stayed except as it permits streaming to other rooms within the confines of the courthouse in which the trial is to be held. Any additional order permitting broadcast of the proceedings is also stayed pending further order of this Court. To permit further consideration in this Court, this order will remain in effect until Wednesday, January 13, 2010, at 4 p.m. eastern time. Dissent by Justice Breyer. I agree with the Court that further consideration is warranted, and I am pleased that the stay is time limited. However, I would undertake that consideration without a temporary stay in place. This stay prohibits the transmission of proceedings to other federal courthouses. In my view, the Court's standard for granting a stay is not met. See Conkright v. Frommert, 556 U. S. ——, —— (2009) (slip op., at 1–2) (Ginsburg, J., in chambers). In particular, the papers filed, in my view, do not show a likelihood of "irreparable harm." With respect, I dissent.

STATEMENT CONCERNING THE SUPREME COURT'S FRONT ENTRANCE

Memorandum of JUSTICE BREYER, with whom JUSTICE GINSBURG joins.

I write with regret to note the closing of the Court's front entrance. The Supreme Court building is currently undergoing extensive construction, and the Court has decided that, after this construction is completed, visitors to the Court—including the parties whose cases we decide, the attorneys who argue those cases, and the members of the public who come to listen and to observe their government in action—will have to enter through a side door. While I recognize the reasons for this change, on balance I do not believe they justify it. I think the change is unfortunate, and I write in the hope that the public will one day in the future be able to enter the Court's Great Hall after passing under the famous words "Equal Justice Under Law."

Cass Gilbert faced a difficult problem when he was commissioned to design the Court's present home. The Court was to be built on a small, irregularly-shaped plot of land adjacent to both the Capitol and the Library of Congress, two powerful and prominent architectural competitors. How was Gilbert to create a distinctive, yet fitting, home for the Court in these circumstances?

Gilbert's solution was to design an entrance that, in the words of architect and lawyer Paul Byard, "emphasiz[ed] the processional progress toward justice reenacted daily in [the Court's] premises." Starting at the Court's western plaza, Gilbert's plan leads visitors along a carefully choreographed, climbing path that ultimately ends at the courtroom itself. The Court's forty-four marble steps, the James Earle Fraser sculptures Contemplation of Justice and Authority of Law, the Western portico with its eight pairs of columns standing high above the removed wings of the building, the Great Hall—each of these elements does its part to encourage contemplation of the Court's central purpose, the administration of justice to all who seek it.

But the significance of the Court's front entrance extends beyond its design and function. Writers and artists regularly use the steps to represent the ideal that anyone in this country may obtain meaningful justice through application to this Court. And the steps appear in countless photographs commemorating famous arguments or other moments of historical importance. In short, time has proven the success of Gilbert's vision: To many members of the public, this Court's main entrance and front steps are not only a means to, but also a metaphor for, access to the Court itself.

This is why, even though visitors will remain able to leave via the front entrance, I find dispiriting the Court's decision to refuse to permit the public to enter. I certainly recognize the concerns identified in the two security studies that led to this recent decision (which reaffirmed a decision made several years ago). But potential security threats will exist regardless of which entrance we use. And, in making this decision, it is important not to undervalue the symbolic and historic importance of allowing visitors to enter the Court after walking up Gilbert's famed front steps.

To my knowledge, and I have spoken to numerous jurists and architects worldwide, no other Supreme Court in the world—including those, such as Israel's, that face security concerns equal to or greater than ours—has closed its main entrance to the public. And the main entrances to numerous other prominent public buildings in America remain open. I thus remain hopeful that, sometime in the future, technological advances, a Congressional appropriation, or the dissipation of the current security risks will enable us to restore the Supreme Court's main entrance as a symbol of dignified openness and meaningful access to equal justice under law.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Stevens, Justice Scalia, Justice Kennedy, Justice Thomas, Justice Ginsburg, Justice Breyer, Justice Alito, and Justice Sotomayor.

The Chief Justice said:

"It is my very sad duty to announce that Martin David Ginsburg, husband of our colleague, Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, died yesterday, June 27, 2010, at home in Washington, D. C.

"Martin Ginsburg was born in Brooklyn, New York on June 10, 1932. He earned an A.B. from Cornell University in 1953 and a J.D. magna cum laude from Harvard Law School in 1958.

"Martin Ginsburg and Ruth Bader Ginsburg met at Cornell on a blind date in 1951 and were married on June 23, 1954 at his parents' home on Long Island.

"Martin Ginsburg served in the United States Army from 1954 until 1956 and was stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma where he taught in the artillery school. He had a distinguished career in the law, first in private practice, and later as a renowned law professor known not only for his academic contributions, but also his sharp wit and engaging charm. He began his career as a tax professor at New York University Law School and continued at Columbia Law School. When Ruth Bader Ginsburg was appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in 1980, Martin Ginsburg joined the faculty of the Georgetown University Law Center. He was a visiting professor at Stanford Law School, Harvard Law School, University of Chicago Law School, and New York University Law School. He served on many advisory boards and deservedly won numerous academic accolades and awards. He was a member of the Bar of this Court. He was also a gourmet cook.

"Martin Ginsburg was as loving as he was gifted. He was a devoted husband, father, and grandfather, and he was a dear friend to everyone here at the Court. As a mark of our sorrow and affection for Martin, Justice Ginsburg, and their family, the journal of the court will note that the adjournment of this Court today is in honor of Professor Martin David Ginsburg."

The Chief Justice said:

"We have issued orders today, they have been duly entered and certified, and filed with the Clerk."

The Chief Justice said:

"Before we rise for the summer, I would like to take the opportunity to note that our Reporter of Decisions, Frank D. Wagner, has announced his retirement, effective September 30th of this year. Few outside this Court are aware of the Reporter's important role. He is responsible for the preparation of the decisions of this Court for publication in the official United States Reports. Among many other things, the Reporter is responsible for preparing the syllabus and resolving issues of formatting style, punctuation, spelling, and citation form. Mr. Wagner has served as reporter for more than 23 years. He has overseen the publication of 82 volumes of the Supreme Court Reports, more than any previous reporter, going back 220 years. Mr. Wagner, we thank you for your service, which you have performed with exemplary diligence and skill."

"And now I must regrettably note for the record that this is the last session at which our friend and colleague, Justice John Paul Stevens, will be on the Bench with us. Justice Stevens has served on this court with great distinction since December 1975. We wish him the best in his well-deserved retirement. On this occasion, we have sent Justice Stevens a letter that I will now read.

"Dear John, the Supreme Court convened for the first time in 1790. You have served on its bench for nearly one-sixth of its existence. For the past thirty-four years, this Court has drawn strength from your presence. Whether in majority, separate concurrence, or dissent, you have brought rigor and integrity to the resolution of the most difficult issues. Through it all, you have alloyed genuine collegiality with independent judgment. Your decision to retire saddens each of us in distinct ways. We will miss your wisdom, your perceptive insights and vast life experience, your unaffected decency and resolute commitment to justice. But we also know that your presence will endure through your contributions to the Court's work. You have enriched us through your inspiring example of public service. The bonds of friendship that we have forged extend beyond our common endeavor. We wish you and Maryan great happiness in the years ahead. Affectionately, and the letter is signed by all of us on the Bench and by Justice O'Connor and Justice Souter. Justice Stevens, we will allow you time for rebuttal."

Justice Stevens said:

"Well Chief, I have addressed a response that's addressed 'Dear Colleagues', and it occurred to me sitting here that if I had written this letter when I joined the Court, it would have been addressed 'Dear Brethren' but 'Dear Colleagues' suits today's composition of the Court. Collegiality and independence characterize our common endeavor. I thank you for your kind words, far more importantly, Maryan and I thank each of you and each of your spouses, present and departed, for your warm and enduring friendship. It has been an honor and a privilege to share custodial responsibility for a great institution with the eight of you, and with ten of your predecessors. I have enjoyed working with each of you and with every member of the Supreme Court workforce that has always taken such excellent care of the Justices. If I have overstayed my welcome, it is because this is such a unique and wonderful job. I wish you all the best. Most sincerely."

The Chief Justice said"

"I am authorized to announce that the Court has acted on all cases submitted for decision this Term. Disposition of items scheduled for conference today will be reflected on the order list that will be released at 10:00 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Court will be in recess from today until the first Monday in October 2010, at which time the October 2009 Term of the Court will be adjourned and the October 2010 Term of the Court will begin as provided by law.

"My colleagues and I thank the members of the Court staff for their outstanding work and dedication to their important duties. The important work done by the members of the Court staff contributes significantly to the accomplishment of the Court's mission.

"We also thank the members of the Court's Bar for their professionalism and cooperation."
