SUPPLEMENT TO VOLS. I. AND II.

INTRODUCTION TO SUPPLEMENTARY VOLUME.

General Objects of the Volume.

In the introductions to Volumes I. and II. of the Annual Statement of the Trade of the United Kingdom for 1910 it was explained that throughout the Tables in those volumes imports were classified as received from the countries whence they were consigned to the United Kingdom, whereas in the issues for previous years up to 1908 imports were generally classified as received from the countries whence they were shipped direct to the United Kingdom; and that exports were classified according to the countries of final destination so far as known, even if those countries possessed no seaboard, whereas, in earlier issues, exports to such countries were credited to the country in which the port of discharge was situated.

The main object of this supplementary volume to the Annual Statement of Trade for 1910 is to present the classification of the imports and exports in accordance with the principles formerly adopted in the Tables of Volumes I. and II., so that the information necessary for a comparison of the results yielded by the two methods of classification may be available for a further term of years, as recommended in the Report of the Departmental Committee on Trade Records appointed in 1908 (Cd. 4345).

The general results of the differences in the methods of classification have already been stated in the Introduction to Volume I. As the change in the basis of the Tables chiefly affects the imports, the greater part of the present volume is devoted to a statement, for the years 1909 and 1910, of the imports of each article into the United Kingdom, distinguishing the principal countries from which the goods were imported; and of the imports from each country into the United Kingdom in the year 1910, distinguishing the principal articles.

Arrangement of the Tables.

Abstract Tables.—The first four tables give in a summary form the results of classifying imports and exports according to the countries from and to which they were consigned, as compared with the system previously adopted. Table 1 deals with the trade as a whole in the years 1909 and 1910. Tables 2 to 4 give, for 1910 only, the figures relating to the principal categories of merchandise, distinguishing the trade of the United Kingdom with Foreign Countries and British Possessions respectively. In Tables 5 to 7 similar figures for each of the years 1906 to 1910 are given according to the old system of classification only. Tables 8 and 9 present comparative figures of imports from and exports to each Foreign Country and British Possession in the year 1910 according to the old and new systems of classification, exports of United Kingdom produce being distinguished from those of foreign and colonial merchandise. In Table 10 the value of merchandise consigned to the United Kingdom from each Foreign Country and British Possession is shown for each of the years 1906 to 1910, the value of the direct consignments being distinguished from that of the merchandise which after leaving the country of consignment passed through some other country before reaching the United Kingdom and was recorded as indirectly consigned. Table 11 shows, for the year 1910, the way in which the imports from each country were made up by consignments from various countries, and the consignments from each country by imports from various countries.

Detailed Tables.—Table 12 (free goods) and Table 13 (dutiable goods) give particulars of the imports of each article for the years 1909 and 1910 with the Countries or Possessions from which it was imported according to the old system of classification. Table 14 shows side by side, for each Foreign Country and British Possession, the quantity and value of the principal and other articles consigned to the United Kingdom in the year 1910, as shown in Volume II. of the Annual Statement of Trade for that year, and the quantity and value imported from each such country, classified according to the old system. Corresponding figures respecting exports from the United Kingdom are also given where the exports to any country differ from the consignments thereto. Where the exports are in all respects identical with the consignments a reference is made to the pages of Volume II. on which the particulars will be found.

The various articles of merchandise have been arranged in Tables 12 and 13 in the order adopted for the corresponding Tables in Volume I. of the Annual Statement, and the countries in Table 14 are in the same order as in Volume II. of that publication. A statement of the principles underlying the arrangement in both cases will be found in the Introductions to those volumes.

Tables 15 and 16 show the bullion and specie imported from and consigned from, and exported to and consigned to, each Foreign Country and British Possession.
