I am a researcher from Tufts University, in Massachusetts. I am conducting a research study to learn more about your views towards important policy issues. The goal of the study is to better understand how preferences on policy issues, including topics like school curriculum (specifically the inclusion or exclusion of critical race theory), affects political participation. This survey will ask you some questions for my research. This survey will ask you some questions for my research. It will take less than 10 minutes of your time, and you will be compensated via Lucid's partnerships. We do not use any information about your compensation to alter the questions you are shown.

It's your decision, and there are no consequences to saying no. I don't anticipate any major risks to participation, but you may feel uncomfortable answering some questions. If at any time during the survey you want to stop participating, you are free to end your participation by closing the survey on your computer or device.

Your responses may be used in publications or presentations. I will not possess nor share identifiable information about you. None of your personally identifiable data will be public, but de-identified public responses will be stored on the Dataverse and will be publicly available upon publication of the research study to help other researchers understand our findings.

Below you can find my contact information and the contact information of the research oversight board at Tufts, the Tufts SBER IRB, if you need to get in touch about this research at any point in the future.
