Code #	Category
SP	No answer, can't say, don't know
1	No, it should never be passed, not passed at all, disapprove of conscription, not in favor of it at any time
2	Opposed to conscription - world peace conference should not teach men to fight, should not follow Germany's example - breed more wars, if this is the last war why prepare for another, didn't work in other countries,
3	Opposed to conscription - that is compulsory and this is a free country, should have volunteer army and navy, through education system, our country would be too militaristic
4	Opposed - leads to graft, too much expense
5	Opposed - wait until after the war, wait until present conflict is settled
6	Opposed - wait until servicemen return, let those who served have voice in deciding
7	Yes - pass the law now, a good thing, why wait, sooner the better
8	Pass the law now while we are in spirit of preparedness, if we wait we won't do it, we'll forget Pearl Harbor
9	Pass law now - U.S. should be prepared, must enforce peace, other countries do it
0	Pass it now - training, discipline good for young men, keeps boys not working out of "devilment", develop their bodies, health

Opposed - interferes in education, takes year out of person's life, interferes in career	7	12
Yes, but more like V-15 and V-12, along with education	2	8
Depends on how it will be handled, on method of training	3	4
Large standing Army instead	1	3
Now - men would not resent it as much - everyone going into service anyway; need trained men now		2
The president should decide, head of army and navy should decide	1	1
Prefer something like C.C.C. Camp	1	-
Now, but only for those who want army career	1
Absolutely wrong. We would soon have army officers for President as in Europe		1
