What the dataset is about:

This data set provides detailed information on the deployment of international and national civilian staff in United Nations (UN) peacekeeping operations at the mission-month level for the period 2000–2018. It includes all UN peacekeeping missions active during this timeframe, including the African Union/UN Hybrid Operation in Darfur (UNAMID). However, it does not cover UN Special Political Missions managed by the UN Department of Peacekeeping Operations (DPKO) or the UN Department of Political Affairs (DPA). The unit of analysis is UNPKO-month.

The data has been collected and compiled by the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) as part of SIPRI's Multilateral Peace Operations Database, with funding from the Swedish Research Council (VR). The sources of data are:

1. Monthly Background Notes/Fact Sheets produced by the UN Department of Public Information (DPI), and

2. Monthly quantitative reports containing statistics on civilian staff in UN field missions, prepared by the UN Department of Field Support (DFS).

Variables in the dataset:

- mission_acronym: Acronym of the UNPKO

- mission_name: Name of the UNPKO

- location:Country/(ies) in which the UNPKO is mandated to carry out its work.

- region: according worldregion
- date: current date
- int_civilian_staff: number of international civilian staff deployed to the UNPKO in the given month.
- nat_civilian_staff: number of national civilian staff deployed to the UNPKO in the given month.

Data sources and missing data

The table below outlines the specific sources used for each month during the period 2000–2018. This data set captures all available information on civilian staff deployments included in the primary sources for each month. Note that the data may include the number of civilian staff deployed in a mission before its official start date or after its mandate has ended.

There are some gaps in the data for certain months. An overview of the missing data for all included UN peacekeeping operations is provided in the table below. Please note: The months for which there is no data are excluded from the data set.
