There are two files needed to replicate the analyses described and depicted in "Compulsory Voting and Voter Information Seeking" and its associated supplemental material.

1. The data, included in Stata format as "replication data, R&P.dta"
2. The Stata code, in a do-file, included as "replication code, R&P.do"

To proceed with the replication, open the data in Stata. Then, open the do-file. The code can be run directly from the do-file. The do-file indicates which analyses correspond to the figures in the manuscript and the appendix.
