Asylum Evaluation Training RSVP

This is the RSVP form for the Asylum Evaluation Training Platform. We are thrilled that you are interested in working with Chicago Peoples Rights Collaborative (CPRC) in conjunction with Physicians for Human Rights (PHR) to provide medical, mental health, and gynecological evaluations for asylum seekers in the U.S.

The training will be conducted over the next several months and will involve live small group zoom sessions and lectures that you can either attend live or watch recordings at your leisure.

All prospective clinicians (LICSW, LCSW, PsyD, PhD, NP, DO, MD, PA, LMHC, and LMFT) and respective trainees and students in these fields are welcome to join.

For clinician evaluators, per PHR policy, you must be a permanently licensed, clinician in order to conduct evaluations. We will work to match clinician trainees and students with trained permanently licensed clinicians in "clinical teams" for our cases.

To register for our training, please fill out this form. We will send an invite to our training platform on Sharepoint to those who have registered. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to Jannie Bolotnikov: education@chicagopeoplesrights.com

We look forward to seeing you! The zoom links for the live session will be sent out to those who RSVP to the course.

12. CPRC CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

This confidentiality agreement is intended to protect records and information as it pertains to former client-individuals (asylum seekers) who's case information is utilized in our training material. We are asking you to not share this information outside of our training platform with anybody for any purpose. You can read the full agreement below:

THIS AGREEMENT by and between the "Chicago People's Rights Collaborative/CPRC" and the "Trainee", and known collectively as the "Parties", set forth the terms and conditions under which information created or received by or on behalf of this CPRC.

THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the covenants and agreements contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

Confidential Information

The Parties acknowledge that meaningful involvement may or will necessitate disclosure of Confidential Information by CPRC to the Trainee and use of Confidential Information by the Trainee. The term "Confidential Information" includes, but is not limited to, any information about clients or other Staff Member/Clinical Volunteers, any security credentials, any client records any financial information about CPRC or its clients that is not public, or is otherwise designated as confidential by CPRC.

Disclosure

Disclosure and use of Confidential Information includes oral communications as well as display or distribution of tangible physical documentation, in whole or in part, from any source or in any format (e.g., paper, digital, electronic, internet, social networks, magnetic or optical media, film, etc.). The Parties have entered into this Agreement to induce use and disclosure of Confidential Information and are relying on the covenants contained herein in making any such use or disclosure. CPRC, not the Trainee, is the records owner under state law and the Trainee has no right or ownership interest in any Confidential Information. *
