This replication archive contains the data and code necessary to replicate all of the analyses associated with "Birth Legacies, State Making, and War." The data sets are located in the "Data" zip file. The code required to replicate our primary analyses (including the figures presented in the paper) is in the "Base" zip file. The code required to replicate the various robustness checks are located in the other zip files. The code required to produce the various figures in the Supplementary Appendix is provided in the file "BirthLegaciesWarAppendixFigures.R". Replicating any of the analyses will require you to change the file pathways associated with the various R scripts and Stata ".do" files. If you have any questions about the replication files, please contact Jeff Carter at jcarter3@olemiss.edu.
