AARHUS UNIVERSITY

To
Assistant Professor Nicholas Haas
Department of Political Science
Aarhus University

The Research Ethics Committee

Date: 09 October 2020

Direct Tel.: [redacted]
E-mail: [redacted]

Journal no.: 2020-0135037
Serial Number: 2020-58

Sender's CVR no.: 31119103

Re the 'My History or Our History? Historical Revisionism and Entitlement to Lead' research project
Person in charge of the project: Assistant Professor Nicholas Haas
Contact/project manager: -
Project period: September 2020 – September 2021

Aarhus University's Research Ethics Committee (Institutional Review Board) discussed the project at its meeting on 3 September 2020 and in writing and came to the following decision:

Decision

The project is approved in accordance with Aarhus University's guidelines for the university's Research Ethics Committee (IRB) and the considerations listed in the guidelines.

The approval is granted with reference to the following documents:

- Information sheet with appendices:
  - Project description/protocol
  - Participant information
  - Declaration of consent

The person or persons identified as being in charge of the project guarantee that the project is carried out as described in the referenced documents and is otherwise in compliance with applicable research ethics and data protection regulations.

AARHUS UNIVERSITY

As a result of the approval, subsequent academic publications which are based on the findings of the project may be provided with the endorsement that 'the project was approved by the Institutional Review Board at Aarhus University' (indicating the approval number).

The following Committee members participated in the discussion of the project:

- [redacted], professor (chair)
- [redacted], clinical professor (HE)
- [redacted], professor (HE)
- [redacted], associate professor (ST)
- [redacted], associate professor (ST)
- [redacted], professor (BSS)
- [redacted], professor (BSS)
- [redacted], associate professor (AR)
- [redacted], associate professor (AR)

Kind regards,

[redacted]
Chief consultant