The raw data for this paper is stored on servers at Statistics Denmark. Due to security and privacy reasons, the data cannot be made publicly available and we as researcher do not have permission to extract or share micro data.

Researchers who want to gain access to micro data can only be granted so by Statistics Denmark. Statistics Denmark has created detailed step-by-step descriptions of how such access is granted. The description, as of October 2019, is also uploaded to the Dataverse and available with Statistics Denmark:

While data replication cannot be provided, but will have to be applied through the process laid out by Statistics Denmark, our scripts-files are stored on Political Analysis's dataverse: https://dataverse.harvard.edu/dataverse/pan.

We welcome any inquiries with respect to data access.
