In re: Request for Prison Census Control :
In Response to COVID-19

O R D E R

Before this Court is an Emergency Petition for Issuance of an Extraordinary Writ (Petition), which was filed by the Rhode Island Public Defender (Public Defender) on March 30, 2020. The Public Defender petitions this Court for a writ ordering the Superior Court and the District Court to reduce the sentences of those inmates at the Adult Correctional Institutions (A.C.I.) whose sentences are due to expire within ninety (90) days to time served. The Public Defender contends that such relief is necessary to alleviate the serious health risks posed to inmates, Department of Corrections (DOC) employees, and the general public by the outbreak of the novel coronavirus, COVID-19. Both the Rhode Island Office of the Attorney General (Attorney General) and the DOC filed responses to the Petition.

On April 1, 2020, the Public Defender, Attorney General, and the DOC submitted a joint stipulation (Stipulation), in which seventy-six (76) inmates were identified as being appropriate for immediate release from the A.C.I., provided that such release is in accordance with a discharge plan that provides for release into a stable setting where the individual will be able to quarantine for fourteen (14) days pursuant to Department of Health (DOH) guidelines. A copy of the Stipulation is attached hereto.

On April 3, 2020, the Public Defender, Attorney General, and the DOC submitted a supplemental stipulation (Supplemental Stipulation), in which fifty-two (52) inmates were identified as being appropriate for immediate release from the A.C.I., subject to the terms of the Stipulation plus the additional term that no inmate shall be released from the A.C.I. unless and until any other holds relating to that inmate, arising out of cases other than the cases identified in the attachment to the Supplemental Stipulation, are resolved. The parties stipulated that the list of inmates attached to the Supplemental Stipulation supersedes and replaces the previous list attached to the Stipulation. A copy of the Supplemental Stipulation is attached hereto.

The full Court having considered the Petition, the responses thereto, the Stipulation, and the Supplemental Stipulation, the following is ordered:

For those fifty-two (52) inmates listed in Attachment C to the Supplemental Stipulation, the Superior and District Courts shall be authorized and are hereby directed to enter orders (either individually or in the form of an omnibus order) reducing the sentences of the named defendants whose convictions emanated from their respective courts and providing for the inmates' immediate release subject to the conditions agreed upon by the parties in the Stipulation and Supplemental Stipulation. For the limited purpose of this Order, the time limits imposed by Rule 35 of the Superior and District Court Rules of Criminal Procedure for motions to reduce sentence shall be waived. The Superior and District Courts shall be satisfied that the early release plan implemented by the DOC, in accordance with the terms agreed to by the parties in the Stipulation and Supplemental Stipulation, has been met. Should the Public Defender, Attorney General, and DOC hereafter identify additional inmates who may be appropriate for early release in accordance with the terms of the Stipulation and Supplemental Stipulation, and whose release date is within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order, the Superior and District Courts are directed to enter additional orders that comply with the terms of this Order and any future orders of this Court.

With respect to any A.C.I. inmate, subject to the restrictions set forth below, whose sentence is due to expire within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order, for which the Public

Defender, Attorney General, and DOC have not stipulated to the early release of, the following is ordered:

The Superior and District Courts are directed to establish expedited emergency calendars to be presided over by a single judicial officer in each court who shall consider motions to reduce sentence in accordance with the criteria identified below, and in the Stipulation and Supplemental Stipulation. For the limited purpose of this Order, the time limits imposed by Rule 35 of the Superior and District Court Rules of Criminal Procedure for motions to reduce sentence shall be waived. All movants, subject to his or her written consent, shall be represented by the Public Defender. All resulting orders issued by the Superior and District Courts shall provide that the early release plan shall be implemented by the DOC in accordance with the terms agreed to by the parties in the Stipulation and Supplemental Stipulation. All such orders are final.

If an inmate whose sentence is due to expire within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order meets any of the following criteria, he or she is not eligible to seek early release: (1) the inmate is incarcerated for a domestic violence offense; (2) the inmate cannot establish to the satisfaction of the DOC that he or she is not a risk to public safety; (3) the inmate is presently subject to a no contact order involving a named person, or is incarcerated for having violated a no contact order involving another person; (4) the inmate cannot establish to the satisfaction of the DOC that he or she will be released to a stable setting; (5) the inmate has not agreed to quarantine for fourteen (14) days following his or her release, monitor themselves for COVID-19, and submit to public health monitoring by the State; (6) the inmate has tested positive for COVID-19; (7) the inmate has manifested symptoms of COVID-19 and has not been cleared by DOC medical staff; or (8) the inmate cannot otherwise satisfy any criteria for early release set by the DOC medical staff and DOH.

STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS
SUPREME COURT

IN RE: REQUEST FOR PRISON CENSUS :
CONTROL IN RESPONSE TO COVID-19 : SU-2020-0103-M.P.

STIPULATION

This matter is before the Court pursuant to the Emergency Petition For Issuance Of Extraordinary Writ that the Rhode Island Public Defender ("Public Defender") filed on March 30, 2020, and on which the Court held a conference on April 1.

Background

On March 9, 2020, the Governor declared a state of emergency due to the dangers to health and life posed by the spread of the novel coronavirus, also referred to as COVID-19. Since that time, COVID-19 has continued to spread throughout Rhode Island with rising hospitalizations and fatalities.

In the opinion of the Director of the Department of Health, Dr. Nicole Alexander-Scott, the early release of prisoners currently housed at the Adult Correctional Institutions (ACI) is necessary and appropriate to prevent overcrowding and to continue to ensure the social distancing measures necessary to prevent the spread of COVID-19, provided that these individuals are released into a stable setting where they will be able to quarantine for a full 14-day period. (See Memo of Director Nicole Alexander-Scott, dated April 1, 2020, attached here as Attachment A).

The Department of Corrections has also represented that, in its judgment, further reduction in the inmate census is necessary to mitigate the risk of spread of COVID-19 within the ACI and infection of inmates and staff. In the opinion of Dr. Jennifer Clarke, the Medical Program Director at the ACI, "the fewer inmates the ACI maintains, in a congregate living environment, the safer the inmates are from a COVID-19 outbreak within the secured facilities," and "the fewer inmates incarcerated will strengthen DOC's ability to keep the virus out of the secured facilities and contain it if an inmate becomes infected." (See Declaration of Dr. Clarke dated March 31, 2020, attached here as Attachment B).

At the same time, the Parties are cognizant that the risk to the health of inmates, correctional officers, and staff at the ACI must be weighed against the risk to public safety.

The Rhode Island Public Defender has petitioned the Court for the early release of all inmates scheduled to be released from the ACI within the next 90 days. That list includes approximately 200 individuals, not counting those individuals scheduled to be released this week.

The Attorney General, as stated previously, does not object to the release of certain nonviolent offenders and certain drug offenders provided that the Department of Corrections can comply with the directives of the Department of Health. However, the Attorney General objects to the early release of inmates incarcerated for violent offenses (including, but not limited to, murder, manslaughter, felony assault, simple assault, and domestic violence offenses), weapons offenses, breaking and entering offenses, drug distribution offenses, and certain other offenses including violations of no contact orders and reckless driving/DUI offenses which it deems pose an unreasonable risk to the public.

The parties will continue to review the list of inmates who are scheduled to complete their sentences in the next ninety days and will advise the Court on or before April 3 as to whether they are able to stipulate to the eligibility for early release of any other inmates. The Parties understand that the Court may order further proceedings to address the early release of individuals for whom the Parties have not reached an agreement.

Stipulated-to Early Release

Consistent with the recommendations of both the Rhode Island Department of Health and the Rhode Island Department of Corrections, the Public Defender, the Office of the Attorney General, and the Department of Corrections stipulate and agree to the following:

1. Each of the 76 inmates identified on the list attached as Attachment C should be eligible to have the time-to-serve component of the sentence that he or she is currently serving at the ACI reduced to "time served" and for immediate release from the ACI provided that such release is conducted pursuant to a discharge plan that provides for their release into a "stable setting where they will be able to quarantine for a full 14 day period" consistent with Department of Health guidelines. See Attachment A.

2. No inmate shall have his or her sentence reduced or be released from the ACI pursuant to this Order unless and until the inmate (a) establishes to the satisfaction of the Department of Corrections that he or she will be released to a stable setting and (b) agrees to quarantine for fourteen (14) days following his or her release, monitor themselves for symptoms of COVID-19, and submit to public health monitoring by the state.

3. The Department of Correction may implement this early release plan over a period of ten days from the entry of any court order provided that no individual listed on Attachment C may be held longer than his or her original sentence. The Department of Corrections shall advise the Court, the Office of the Attorney General, and the Public Defender within five (5) days of the entry of any court order of its progress in implementing this early release program.

From: Nicole Alexander-Scott, MD, MPH
Director

Date: April 1, 2020

Subject: Early Release

In order to prevent overcrowding and to continue to ensure the social distancing measures necessary to prevent the spread of COVID-19, the Rhode Island Department of Health supports the release of prisoners currently housed at the Adult Correctional Institutions provided that any individuals must be released into a stable setting where they will be able to quarantine for a full 14 day period. While under quarantine any individuals released from the ACI will be required to monitor for symptoms and be subject to public health monitoring by the state.

PROVIDENCE, SC.		SUPREME COURT
IN RE: REQUEST FOR PRISON CENSUS CONTROL	:	SU-2020-103-MP
IN RESPONSE TO COVID-19	:

RHODE ISLAND DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS RESPONSE TO PUBLIC DEFENDER'S EMERGENCY PETITION FOR ISSUANCE OF EXTRAORDINARY WRIT AND REQUEST FOR TELEPHONE CONFERENCE WITH DUTY JUSTICE

Now comes the Rhode Island Department of Corrections ("RIDOC"), and pursuant to the Rhode Island Supreme Court's order to respond to the Rhode Island Public Defender's Emergency Petition for Issuance of Extraordinary Writ, the Department of Corrections hereby submits the following:

The COVID-19 virus is a new disease and there is limited information regarding risk factors for severe illness resulting from contraction of the disease. Since the inception of this extraordinary public health crisis the Department has sought numerous ways to mitigate the population census in anticipation of widespread infection within the facilities of the Adult Correctional Institutions. These efforts include, but are not limited to, encouraging the courts to increase utilization of home confinement for bail and short sentences, coordinating with the courts to substantially increase the use of video court and video conferencing to reduce the number of individuals entering and exiting the facilities, providing the Public Defender with a list of awaiting trial inmates held on low bail amounts for their filing of motions to reduce bail, and reviewing inmates for restoration of lost good time where appropriate in an effort to accelerate release dates. While pursuing these initiatives the Department has remained cognizant of the limits of the

- Many conditions can cause a person to be immunocompromised, including cancer treatment, smoking, bone marrow or organ transplantation, immune deficiencies, poorly controlled HIV or AIDS, and prolonged use of corticosteroids and other immune weakening medications. See https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/specific-groups/people-at-higher-risk.html."

7. Many of the inmates incarcerated at the ACI are in one or more at-risk category which means their mortality rate is elevated if they do become infected.

8. In my opinion, from a public health perspective, the fewer inmates the ACI maintains, in a congregate living environment, the safer the inmates are from a COVID-19 outbreak within the secured facilities.

9. In my opinion, fewer inmates incarcerated will strengthen DOC's ability to keep the virus out of the secured facilities and contain it if an inmate becomes infected.

SUPREME COURT

IN RE: REQUEST FOR PRISON CENSUS :
CONTROL IN RESPONSE TO COVID-19 : SU-2020-0103-M.P.

SUPPLEMENTAL STIPULATION

On April 1, 2020, the Rhode Island Public Defender ("Public Defender"), the Office of the Attorney General ("Attorney General"), and the Department of Corrections ("DOC") filed a stipulation that identified seventy-six inmates that the parties agreed should be eligible to have the time-to-serve component of the sentence that he or she is currently serving at the Adult Correctional Institutions ("A.C.I.") reduced to "time served" and for immediate release from the A.C.I. for the reasons and pursuant to the terms and conditions identified in that stipulation.

The parties submit this supplemental stipulation for two reasons.

First, the Public Defender, Attorney General, and D.O.C. stipulate and agree that no inmate listed in Attachment C shall be released from the A.C.I. unless and until any other holds relating to that inmate, arising out of cases other than the cases identified on Attachment C, are resolved.

Second, the parties have continued to review the list of inmates who are scheduled to complete their sentences in the next ninety days. Based on that review, and for the reasons identified in the April 1 stipulation, the Public Defender, Attorney General, and D.O.C. stipulate and agree that the attached list supersedes and replaces the previous list provided to the Court. This list does not reflect individuals who (1) have already been released by D.O.C. based on their good time discharge date, (2) are not eligible for release due to other holds, and (3) includes four additional individuals for whom the parties have reached agreement. The 52 inmates identified on the list attached as Attachment C should be eligible to have the "time-to-serve" component of their sentences reduced to "time served" on the listed matters and for immediate release provided that the conditions identified here and in the April 1 stipulation, which are incorporated in full herein, are satisfied.

The parties understand that the Court may order further proceedings to address the early release of individuals with good time release dates between April 6, 2020, and July 6, 2020, that were on the list that the D.O.C. circulated on April 1, 2020, entitled "New 90 Day List 040120 No Consecutive Sentences.xlsx" for whom the parties have not reached an agreement.
