To limit coronavirus, the Redden Forest Lodge and campsites at Blackbird State Forest and Redden State Forest are now closed.

DOVER, Del. — Beginning immediately, the Delaware Forest Service will take the following steps to limit the potential spread of the Coronavirus:

- The Lodge at Redden State Forest will be closed to the public until further notice.
  For existing reservations, contact Catherine Connelly at 302-698-4547 or catherine.connelly@delaware.gov.
- All campsites at Redden and Blackbird State Forests will be closed to the public until further notice.
- All large gatherings (>25 people) scheduled for any of the State Forests will be cancelled.
- State Forests will remain open to the general public for the time being for outdoor activities such as hiking, bird watching, horseback riding, etc.
- Staff members will cancel all scheduled meetings (or use teleconferencing as an alternative), school programs, on-site educational programs at the State Forests, and any other activity would involve multiple people in the same room.
- Staff members will avoid all out-of-state travel until further notice.
- Staff members will limit their exposure to the general public whenever possible, in order to prevent the possible transmission of coronavirus.
