The Alabama National Guard (ALNG) is providing primary COVID-19 vaccination clinics in 24 counties for the next three weeks, and then will follow up with second-dose clinics April 13-30. Locations for some COVID-19 vaccination clinics have been changed from those originally announced due to weather or unforeseen logistical issues. These include changes for the clinics in Greene, Hale, Marengo and Sumter counties. Dates for the Conecuh and Washington County clinics were rotated due to a site conflict.

Gov. Kay Ivey activated the ALNG to set up the mobile sites to bring COVID-19 vaccinations to underserved and rural communities. The free clinics are provided in cooperation with the Alabama Department of Public Health, the Alabama Emergency Management Agency, and local county emergency management agency staff. All clinics are held between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Central Daylight Time, and no appointments are needed or made.

Regular updates will be announced because locations are subject to change. Persons are asked to review schedule information, flyers, a required consent form and five forms before receiving their vaccine. Forms are found at alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/ng-clinics.html (https://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/ng-clinics.html).To expedite the vaccination process, persons may complete the consent form found on the website ahead of time and bring it to the vaccination site. For those without the ability to print the forms, materials will also be available at the vaccination locations.

People currently eligible for vaccination are in Allocation Phases 1a, 1b, 1c and people age 55 and older. Alabama's vaccine allocation plan may be viewed at alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/index.html (https://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/covid19vaccine/index.html).

The Pfizer vaccine will be administered at the clinics located in Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Choctaw, Clarke, Coffee, Conecuh, Covington, Crenshaw, Dale, Dallas, Greene, Hale, Henry, Lowndes, Macon, Marengo, Monroe, Perry, Pike, Russell, Sumter, Washington and Wilcox counties.
