The S.C. Department of Corrections is extending visitation, volunteer, work-release and labor crew suspensions until June 30.

No visitors or volunteers will be allowed to enter institutions, and labor and work crews will not go out into the community. These measures are put in place to ensure everyone's health and safety from the public health threat posed from COVID-19 and the potential impact on its staff, offenders, volunteers and visitors.

SCDC is working on a visitation plan so the department will be ready to welcome families back when it is safe to do so.

All offenders will be given two free 5-minute calls each week.

During normal times, almost 15,000 people visit our institutions each month, and almost all of them are in close contact with at least one offender and staff member. Suspending this interaction has helped limit the risk to offenders and staff posed from COVID-19.

Department officials have been working closely with the S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control for the latest information and guidance about the spread of this virus. SCDC remains diligent in its efforts to protect offenders and staff. Future updates about COVID-19 will be posted on our website, www.doc.sc.gov
