Interacting with EPA on Social Media

We encourage you to share your thoughts as they relate to the topic. The views expressed in comments reflect those of the author and do not necessarily reflect the official views of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency or the federal government.

We encourage interaction, but expect comments generally to be courteous. To that end, we have established the following guidelines with respect to social media comments.

We reserve the discretion to hide or remove comments that:

- contain obscene, indecent, or profane language;
- contain threats or defamatory statements;
- contain hate speech directed at race, color, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, religion, or disability; or
- promote or endorse services or products. (Note that non-commercial links that are relevant to the topic or another comment are acceptable.)

Copyrighted and other proprietary material should not be posted or shared in any form on EPA social media accounts unless permission to do so is clearly indicated. In posting comments, the commenter grants EPA (and anyone viewing the EPA comments) irrevocable permission to copy, distribute, make derivatives, display or perform the commenter's work publicly and free-of-charge.

We recognize that the internet is a medium unbound by regular business hours and your interactions are welcome at any time. However, given the need to manage federal resources, reviewing and replying to comments will generally occur during regular business hours Monday through Friday.

Reporters are asked to send questions to EPA Media Contacts <https://epa.gov/newsroom/media-contacts>, rather than commenting on EPA social media posts.

For EPA guidance and policies about comments on regulations and dockets, please reference our Commenting on EPA Dockets webpage <https://epa.gov/dockets/commenting-epa-dockets>.

To protect your privacy, please do not include information (e.g., an e-mail address or phone number) in the text of your comment that identifies you.

Additional guidance as to how EPA regards privacy issues can be found within the Privacy and Security Notice <https://epa.gov/privacy/privacy-and-security-notice>.

Thank you for taking the time to read these guidelines.
