Rival Claims Chapter 4 Replication Data: Variable Definitions

Bethany Lacina

August, 2016

http://dx.doi.org/10.7910/DVN/IJRZ04

Variable	Explanation
eid	Case id
year
casetype	One of: State majority; Ex-state; other plurality enclaves casename	Language and area description
lsi	Plurality language id number statename
majlangstate	Full state with largest language > 50% (0/1)
rival	Rival community
rlsi	Rival community language id
ips	Statehood movement violence
ipsma	5-year average ips
ucdpi	Separatist insurgency
seatdiff	Seat difference as % of PM's coalition seatadv	Seat advantage as % of PM's coalition seatdisadv	Seat disadvantage as % of PM's coalition
sthd	Statehood
sthd_granted	1 in year statehood granted
y0	1st year case is in the data elpoler	Ethnolinguistic polarization
ehindupc	Hindu population (%)
distmsh	Linguistic distance from Modern Standard Hindi (0-7) s1distmsh	Linguistic distance from Modern Standard Hindi of state's largest language (0-7) ntnllitratio	Inequality relative to India as a whole based on literacy rates lnelpop	Ln main group population
eupc	Urban population (%)
ldist	Ln distance to New Delhi (km) ipspyrspline1	Years w/o statehood movement violence
ipspyrspline2
ipspyrspline3
ipspyrspline4
ucdpipyrspline1	Years w/o insurgency
ucdpipyrspline2
ucdpipyrspline3
ucdpipyrspline4
border	On Indian land border
mybin	Seat difference bins used in plots (see replication commands)

See Rival Claims for sources of violence data.

Linguistic distances from Lewis, M. Paul, ed. 2009. Ethnologue: Languages of the World . Dallas, TX: SIL International.

For information on other sources, see district dataset at http://dx.doi.org/10.7910/DVN/9Y6XQ3