CONSENT FORM

For the Anonymous Use of a Study for Research Purposes

I, the undersigned ..... (name), as a student of the Doctoral School of Education at Eszterházy Károly Catholic University, by signing this declaration, hereby state that:

1. Background:

I have applied for the research described in the document titled "Call for Participation in Research" sent out by Professor [anonymized] on November 1, 2024.
I have accepted the conditions of my participation in the research, including that I will prepare my study independently and will not use any software assistance for its writing (except for a word processor).
I have accepted that the submitted works will be checked with software that detects the use of software assistance or plagiarism before being forwarded for peer review.
I have accepted that my submitted work will be subjected to other text analysis procedures and that the text of the study will be used anonymously in further scientific research.

2. Present Consent:

I acknowledge and expressly consent to the research leaders forwarding my submitted theoretical study titled
“.....” on the topic of the connections between artificial intelligence and education, to a large number of evaluators for review anonymously, without my name and other identifying data.

I understand that my study will be used within the framework of research aimed at the comparative evaluation of studies created by humans and by artificial intelligence.

I consent to the anonymous use of the aggregated data from the evaluation of my study for the purposes of statistical analysis and in the publication of the research results, without my name and other identifying data.

In full awareness of my legal and moral responsibility, I undertake and declare that I will not share information or make any statements about the purpose or details of the research, or my participation in it, either personally (to colleagues, friends, relatives, fellow doctoral students) or in any public forum (wider university community, any media platform, etc.) until the research results are published (complete confidentiality). This also applies if I encounter the call for essay evaluation or am asked about it in the course of my work, studies, or personal relationships. I request that this declaration be witnessed by persons who have neither a student nor an employment relationship with Eszterházy Károly Catholic University.

3. Copyright:

I retain the copyright to my study.
I consent to my study being published in the journal or volume indicated in the research plan in the case of a positive review.

Beyond the use specified in the original research call and guide, as well as in this consent form, any other use of my study requires my further written consent.

I declare that I have read and understood this declaration, and that I have received satisfactory answers to all my questions. I am making this declaration of my own free will, free from any external coercion.
