Technology

John McCain has a broad and cohesive vision for the future of American innovation. His policies will provide broad pools of capital, low tax
Transformative information and communications technologies permeate every aspect of our daily lives. In the last decade, there has been an e

John McCain is uniquely qualified to lead our nation during this technological revolution. He is the former chairman of the Senate Committee

To maintain American leadership in the world, John McCain believes we must nurture the conditions under which entrepreneurs can prosper and

As President, John McCain would:

Encourage investment in innovation
Develop a skilled work force
Champion open and fair trade
Reform intellectual property protection
Keep the Internet and entrepreneurs free of unnecessary regulation
Ensure a fully connected citizenry
John McCain Will Encourage Investment in Innovation

John McCain Supports Risk Capital For Investment In American Innovation. Innovation requires risk capital to turn bold ideas into reality. A

John McCain Will Not Tax Innovation By Keeping Capital Gains Taxes Low. Cutting edge ventures fail more than they succeed and it takes darin

John McCain Will Reform And Make Permanent The R&D Tax Credit. Basic research and development is the lifeblood of an innovative economy and

John McCain Will Lower the Corporate Tax Rate To 25 Percent To Retain Investment In U.S. Technologies. Currently, the United States has the

John McCain Will Allow First-Year Expensing Of New Equipment And Technology. To provide an immediate boost to capital expenditures and rewar

John McCain Will Ensure Technology And Innovation Is Not Hampered By Taxes On Internet Users. Ten years ago, Senator McCain led the bipartis

John McCain Opposes Higher Taxes On Wireless Services. John McCain has opposed new state and local discriminatory taxes and fees on wireless

John McCain Will Ensure the American Workforce is Skilled and Ready to Lead the Technological Revolution

America Must Educate Its Workforce For The Innovation Age. America's ability to compete in the global market is dependent on the availabilit

Fill Critical Shortages Of Skilled Workers To Remain Competitive. American workers should always be the first choice for highly skilled tech
John McCain Believes in a Global Marketplace and Will Champion Fair and Open World Trade

John McCain Has Been A Long And Ardent Supporter Of Fair And Open World Trade. Trade greatly benefits America and the American worker. The b

Competition Has Been A Great Strength For America — Offering Opportunity, Low Prices, And Increased Choice For Our Citizens. Markets work be

John McCain Will Protect The Creative Industries From Piracy. The entertainment industry is both a vital sector of the domestic economy and

John McCain Will Protect Inventors Intellectual Property

The patent system has been with us since the founding of our nation. Protecting intellectual property creates the incentives for invention a

John McCain Will Push For Greater Resources For The Patent Office. The increased workload at the United States Patent and Trademark Office t

John McCain Will Pursue Protection Of Intellectual Property Around The Globe. Intellectual property protection is increasingly an issue for

Provide Alternative Approaches To Resolving Patent Challenges. For many important technologies, the only effective way to challenge a patent

John McCain Has Fought to Keep the Internet Free From Government Regulation

The role of government in the Innovation Age should be focused on creating opportunities for all Americans and maintaining the vibrancy of t

John McCain Will Preserve Consumer Freedoms. John McCain will focus on policies that leave consumers free to access the content they choose;

When Regulation Is Warranted, John McCain Acts. John McCain does not believe in prescriptive regulation like "net-neutrality," but rather he
John McCain Will Ensure America is a Connected Nation

America cannot afford to lag in providing its citizens access to 21st Century infrastructure. Our children cannot count on a good education

John McCain Will Pursue High-Speed Internet Access For All Americans. John McCain has long believed that all Americans, no matter if rich or

John McCain has fought special interests in Washington to force the Federal government to auction inefficiently-used wireless spectrum to co

John McCain would seek to accurately identify un-served or under-served areas where the market is not working and provide companies willing

John McCain will establish a "People Connect Program" that rewards companies that offer high-speed Internet access services to low income cu

Ubiquitous connectivity can allow employees to telecommute, or better yet, open up job possibilities to millions of Americans who wish to wo

John McCain Would Place A Priority On Science And Technology Experience. As President, John McCain will be committed to bringing talented me

John McCain Would Ensure That The Federal Government Led By Example. Government can advance Americans' access to high speed Internet service

Government must also use these important tools to protect our nation. John McCain has led the fight for the creation of a nationwide public

John McCain Would Support The Federal Government As An Innovator. John McCain as president would push for a renewed emphasis on innovation t

John McCain Would Make Sure that All Citizens Can Participate In The Technology Revolution. For his 26 years in Congress, John McCain has co

Click here to learn more about John McCain's policies on ensuring the personal security and privacy of Americans in the digital age.