NATIONAL FOUNDATION ON THE ARTS AND THE HUMANITIES

Under a reauthorization in 1977, the shared staff of the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities was abolished and such personnel were assigned either to the National Endowment for the Arts or the National Endowment for the Humanities. As a result, the National Foundation exists only as a legislative "umbrella" for the two separate Endowments, to which all staff are currently assigned. For example, each Endowment now has its own personnel officer and its own general counsel.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

The District of Columbia is a separate political entity within the United States which serves as the seat of the Federal Government. In addition to its status as the Nation's Capital, Washington, D.C., also has its own local governmental structure.

The District's elected mayor and 13-member council govern under a congressional delegation of home rule powers. The home rule charter was approved December 24, 1973, and accepted by the citizens in a referendum held May 7, 1974. Under the U.S. Constitution, Congress retains ultimate legislative authority over the District, and the annual municipal budget still requires House and Senate passage.

Prior to the 1973 Self-Government Act, the District's citizens had been granted the right to vote for the President of the United States (by the XXIII Amendment ratified in 1961). District residents have also elected their school board since 1968 and a nonvoting delegate to the U.S. House of Representatives since 1970.

In 1978, Congress approved a proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution which would provide the people of the District of Columbia with voting representation in both Houses of Congress. The proposed amendment will require the approval of two-thirds of the States within the 7-year ratification period.

The 68.25 square mile District of Columbia lies at the confluence of the Anacostia and Potomac Rivers on land that was ceded by the State of Maryland. A small portion of the city which had been carved from the Virginia shore of the Potomac was returned to Virginia in 1846 and now forms the southern boundary of the District.

The site for the city was selected by George Washington. It rises from the lowlands abutting the Potomac River into the hills at the edge of the Maryland counties of Prince Georges and Montgomery. The District of Columbia became the Nation's Capital on December 1, 1800.

In 1802, a small portion of the District was incorporated into the city of Washington, governed by an appointed Mayor and elected City Council. Ten years later, the city's charter was amended to provide for an elected board of aldermen which, along with the council, selected the Mayor. In 1820, the charter was again modified to allow the city of Washington to elect its Mayor.

The remainder of the District was divided between the city of Georgetown and county of Washington until June 1, 1871, when the three separate jursidictions were merged into a single municipality. The consolidated District was under a territorial form of government, headed by a governor and council named by the President.

In 1874, the Congress abolished the territorial government and established a three-member Board of Commissioners appointed by the President. This structure remained until 1967, when a single-Commissioner and appointed council became the predecessor to the present home-rule government.

The District's first appointed single Commissioner, Walter E. Washington, was elected to serve as the first Mayor of the District of Columbia, taking office on January 2, 1975. The appointed council's Vice Chairman, Sterling Tucker, was elected Chairman of the city's first elected Council.

In November 1978, the 700,000 citizens of the District of Columbia elected their second Mayor, Marion Barry, Jr., and council Chairman, Arrington Dixon. The Reverend Walter E. Fauntroy was reelected to the seat of nonvoting Delegate to the House of Representatives.

On Sept. 28, 1966, the General Assembly took note of this decision and the President invited representatives of Indonesia to take seats in the Assembly.

[5] The Federation of Malaya joined the United Nations on Sept. 17, 1957. On Sept. 16, 1963, its name changed to Malaysia, following the admission of the new federation of Singapore, Sabah (North Borneo) and Sarawak. Singapore became an independent state on Aug. 9, 1965, and a member of the United Nations on Sept. 21, 1965.

[6] Tanganyika was a member of the United Nations from Dec. 14, 1961, and Zanzibar was a member from Dec. 16, 1963. Following the ratification on Apr. 26, 1964, of articles of union between Tanganyika and Zanzibar, the United Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar continued as a single member, later changing its name to United Republic of Tanzania on Nov. 1, 1964.

RULES GOVERNING PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS' GALLERY

1. (a) Administration of the Press Photographers' Gallery is vested in a Standing Committee of Press Photographers consisting of six persons elected by accredited members of the gallery. The Committee shall be composed of one member each from Associated Press Photos, United Press International Newspictures, magazine media, and local newspapers and two "at large" members. At large members may be, but need not be, selected from a media otherwise represented on the Committee.

(b) The term of office of a member of the Committee elected as the Associated Press Photos member, the local newspapers member, or one of the "at large" members shall expire on the day of the election held in the first odd-numbered year following the year in which he was elected, and the term of office of a member of the Committee elected as the United Press International Newspictures member, the magazine media member, or the remaining "at large" member shall expire on the day of the election held in the first even-numbered year following the year in which he was elected, except that a member elected to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall serve only for the unexpired portion of such term.

RULES GOVERNING PERIODICAL PRESS GALLERIES

1. Persons eligible for admission to the Periodical Press Galleries must be bona fide resident correspondents of reputable standing, giving their chief attention to the gathering and reporting of news. They shall state in writing the names of their employers and their additional sources of earned income; and they shall declare that, while a member of the Galleries, they will not act as an agent in the prosecution of claims, and will not become engaged or assist, directly or indirectly, in any lobbying, promotion, advertising, or publicity activity intended to influence legislation or any other action of the Congress, nor any matter before any independent agency, or any department or other instrumentality of the Executive Branch; and that they will not act as an agent for, or be employed by the federal, or any state, local or foreign government or representatives thereof; and that they will not, directly or indirectly, furnish special or "insider" information intended to influence prices or for the purpose of trading on any commodity or stock exchange; and that they will not become employed, directly or indirectly, by any stock exchange, board of trade or other organization or member thereof, or brokerage house or broker engaged in the buying and selling of any security or commodity. Applications shall be submitted to the Executive Committee of the Periodical Correspondents' Association and shall be authenticated in a manner satisfactory to the Executive Committee.

2. Applicants must be employed by perodicals that regularly publish a substantial volume of news material of either general, economic, industrial, technical, cultural or trade character. The periodical must require such Washington coverage on a continuing basis and must be owned and operated independently of any government, industry, institution, association, or lobbying organization. Applicants must also be employed by a periodical that is published for profit and is supported chiefly by advertising or by subscription, or by a periodical meeting the conditions in this paragraph but published by a nonprofit organization that, first, operates independently of any government, industry, or institution and, second, does not engage, directly or indirectly, in any lobbying or other activity intended to influence any

3. Members of the families of correspondents are not entitled to the privileges of the Galleries.

4. The Executive Committee may issue temporary credentials permitting the privileges of the Galleries to individuals who meet the rules of eligibility but who may be on short term assignment or temporarily resident in Washington.

5. Under the authority of Rule 34 of the House of Representatives and of Rule 34 of the Senate, the Periodical Galleries shall be under the control of the Executive Committee, subject to the approval and supervision of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee, at its discretion, to report violations of the privileges of the Galleries to the Speaker or the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration, and pending action thereon, the offending correspondent may be suspended. The Committee shall be elected at the start of each Congress by members of the Periodical Correspondents' Association, and shall consist of seven members with no more than one member from any one publishing organization. The Committee shall elect its own officers, and a majority of the Committee may fill vacancies on the Committee. The list in the Congressional Directory shall be a list only of members of the Periodical Correspondents' Association.

Speaker, House of Representatives.
