Vignette ID number, first 5 numbers on IBM card

Interviewer: I would like to begin by asking you to rate a stack of cards that have a short statement about specific parent-child situations. [Hand top/first card to respondent to read fully. Now hand respondent board and explain...]

As you can see there are a series of envelopes on this board. The envelopes are numbered from 1 through 9. These numbers represent a 9-point scale of seriousness. The numbers between 1 and 9 represent varying degress of seriousness between the least and themost. For example, if you feel an act was only moderately serious, you might rate it a 4, 5 or 6. If you feel it is less serious, but not least, you might rate it 2 or 3 or if you feel it was more serious, but not most, you might rate it 7 or 8. Please rate the card you have just read on this scale according to how serious you feel the act is for the well-being of the child. Use 9 for the most serious acts and 1 for the least serious acts. Remember, this is only your opinion of the seriousness of the act, thereare no right or wrong answers.
[Allow respondent to rate 1st card and then hand rest of deck to respondent for rating.]
Now, please rate these cards the same way you did the first card. [See 'Vignette' text in documentation.]

Q1 - Heard about child abuse during the past year

Heard about child abuse during the past year

Now some questions about child abuse. I want to make clear exactly what I mean. Child abuse is when an adult physically injures a child, not by accident, but in anger or deliberately.

Sometimes the person injuring the child is a parent, older brother or sister, or other relative. It could also be a baby sitter, a teacher or someone else who is not related to the child -- but it would always be someone who is at least temporarily taking care of the child.

During the past year, that is since last January, have you heard or read anything about the general problem of child abuse by parents or others caring for them?

1	Yes
2	No
