Description of data used in the analysis

The main dataset used in the analysis comes from the 6th wave of World Values Survey. The data files are accessible via the following link:

http://www.worldvaluessurvey.org/WVSDocumentationWV6.jsp

Since there are conditions attached to the use of the data, I am not entitled to redistribute these files although they can be freely downloaded. In the R script, the main dataset file name appears as 'wvs6.rdata'.

In addition, GDP per capita values are retrieved from the World Bank database, accessible via the following link:

https://data.worldbank.org/

These values are then compiled into a CSV file that can be read by R, with the name 'GDP.csv'. This file is attached.