I'd say personally that republicans are more hypocritical, almost everything Ive heard a republican say regarding their politics has been hypocritical
user1

That's totally fair. I think both parties are pretty close, with Republicans being just a little more hypocritical.
user2

Especially right now with the state of mass shootings.
user2

Not only with mass shooting but also with abortion and regarding Roe v Wade
user1

I definitely don't dismiss the hypocritical stamens that come from democrats as well
user1

Ugh, seriously. I don't know what I would do without access to Planned Parenthood. It's pretty silly to see the pro-lifers denying funding to help the formula shortage.
user2

And yeah. I feel like democrats are straying far from the left now. Like Biden said he'd do many progressive things and didn't uphold many of them, like codifying Roe v. Wade
user2

Yes! How are you attempting to force people to have babies that we can't support or protect?1
user1

Then again its not unlike a president to not uphold what they said they would.
user1

In my opinion
user1

Exactly. Forcing you to birth a baby you don't want and can't feed. And FOR REAL. It's been a really long time since a president truly acted in the interests of the people. And both democrats and republicans are guilty of mass incarceration, deportations, and vicious military attacks in places we have no business fighting

I appreciate you chatting with me btw! I was 100% expecting a robot in the chat lmao
user2

Yes! I appreciate being able to chat with someone who shares my same opinions
