I definitely think Democrats are more hypocritical.
user1

I'm curious as to why
user2

With Republicans, at least you know that they're mostly corrupt. Democrats that are corrupt are rather sneaky about it.
user1

When I think of Republicans I think of a group that claims to be God-centered and Christlike, and then pushes policies that are the opposite of what Christianity teachers.
user2

Let's hear more about this sneaky corruption...
user2

I also agree with that.
user1

should say what Christianity teaches
user2

Too many Republicans are fanatical Christians.
user1

I mean I definitely think Democrats have their own set of issues -- most of them being we are more talk and less action
user2

But overall I'd say saying one thing and doing another, as the GOP does, is worse
user2

Well, wouldn't you say that most Republicans that you've heard of all have pretty shady pasts and questionable morals?
user1

Oh for sure
user2

Easy example, saying Trump was chosen by God for the presidency, he's so Christ like yadda yadda
user2

meanwhile he's as corrupt as they get
user2

from finances to affairs etc
user2

Democrats (some of them), are also corrupt and shady. But they're more skillful at hiding it, I feel.
user1

You might be right about that
user2

Trump is a delusional psychopath.
user1

He needs to be committed for the safety of society.
