I dont think you can put someone as hypocritical in a category of political discussion
user1

I cannot understand why groups are put in as labels and what type of thinking we have.
user1

Everyone has there own type of thinking and to be hypocritical is meaning you have higher standards, and not one group over another has higher standards, we should all have the same standards
user1

hypocritical could be either group it is the person who has this, which would be like an entitlement
user1

That's understood but I don't think hypocritical means you have higher standards
user2

It's more for like pointing out that someone is going against their own beliefs
user2

this is the definition: behaving in a way that suggests one has higher standards or more noble beliefs than is the case.
user1

Well hypocrisy meansThe practice of claiming to have moral standards or beliefs to which one's own behavior does not conform; pretense.
user2

so the definition is wrong?
user1

or my interpretation is wrong
user1

lol
user1

I also saw your definition
user2

guess its how we interpret the meaning
user1

So for the sake of this question I think we should answer it
user2

well I think there is not an answer, cuz ppl are ppl
user1

Well an example I would have is most Republicans are pro-life
user2

what do you think
user1

they are pro life yes
user1