There are Hippocrates in both but the Republicans take the cake.
user1

I think the Republicans are more hypocritical. They think abortion is wrong, but think it's okay for people to carry guns around and kill school children?!
user2

It's ridiculous how they value lives that don't exist yet more than ones that do.
user2

Totally agree with you. Its really sad to see the behaviour of many of them. Trying to take away a woman's right to choose and yes most of them love those guns. Doesn't matter how many more children and adults die.
user1

Yes it's sad how nothing will change no matter how many more school shootings we see on the news.
user2

Something needs to change. Why can't everybody get along like adults that care about everyone.
user1

That would be nice instead of petty fights in DC. It's like they only care about being right more than making things better
user2

Its very scary. Since Trump was President a lot of Republicans have gone over the deep end
user1

Totally agree with you Musashi
user1

Yeah they really have. It's crazy how so many don't have a problem with what happened January 6th. If it was Democrats storming the capital to overturn the election it would be a huge deal and heads would roll!
user2

We are just the little people. Yes if it were Democrats heads would roll.
user1

Yeah it does feel like we're just little people caught up in their drama. Very true Hops.
user2

I wish there was something that could be done. We should all be equal and care about one another.
user1

Yes if only we had more of a voice and mattered.
user2

everyone should care equally no matter what
user2

Some people fear differences when they should be embraced
user1

Sad but true
user2

:(
