Republicans
user1

For sure republicans why do you think
user2

Republicans are all about saving the children but when it comes to our children being slaughtered they say guns are more important. How about you?
user1

They say they want to help us and any time a bill comes into play by a democrat they automatically shut it down
user2

I'm for gun control they need to do more mental checks on people that are buying any gun
user2

Exactly. I know that most of the news I get is from left-leaning sources, but it seems like Republicans take so much more money from lobbyists. We do need gun control. I just don't understand their thinking.
user1

By that I mean I don't understand Republican thinking
user1

It's time we finally do something are children are dying my 16 year old sons best friend was shot 26 times by 4 16 and 17 year old kids
user2

I don't understand how people any one are letting kids get there hands on weapons
user2

Oh my gosh!! I am so sorry to hear that. I've never met anyone who has been directly affected by this.
user1

The scary thing is that now people are printing weapons using 3D printers. I don't know how we would even stop that.
user1

I can't imagine what your son must be going through
user1

Yes it's a huge part of my life now I am in Pittsburgh in the city it's getting extremely bad
user2

I'm in the desert in Arizona in a small town, but it's a very red town. I'm so afraid of these people
user1

They drive around with huge Trump flags and American flags
user1

We have that 2
user2

It's everywhere
user1

I feel so helpless
user1

I can't believe that people want that crazy man in office again
user2

Me neither. I've lost a lot of what I thought were good friends. I thought these people were kind, loving people and then I see Trump flags in their yards. It doesn't make any sense.
user1

One woman is this very sweet, kind woman who would do anything for you but she supports T. How????
user1

Some people I think aren't educated
user2

Fox news probably
