Greetings. How goes it on your end?
user1

I think Republicans. They don't seem to have much empathy for anyone that is not a stronger believer of their political views. They also tax the poor, but let the insanely rich off the hook.
user2

I am fine. And yourself?
user2

Exactly. There seems to be a tendency for them to support big business which is lining their pockets, and trying to make the poor and middle class pick up the tab.
user1

I'm good, thanks.

So how bad are gas prices in your neck of the woods? lol It pertains to politics, believe me.
user1

I find it hilarious, that fuel companies are intentionally gouging gas prices, yet the Republicans don't want to pass a bill that would prevent that.
user1

It's almost up to 5 bucks in my neck of the woods.
