While I don't think that either side has a monopoly on hypocrisy, I do believe that Republicans are more likely to be hypocritical than Democrats.

I totally agree. I am very nervous that Republicans are likely to take the house and senate in the next elections

Yes I am as well. While I'm still optimistic about Dems holding the Senate, I more or less consider the House already lost.

Seeing how some of them behaved at the State of the Union address was so frustrating.

Yes, embarrassing even. I do wonder what will happen with Bobert and MTG in this next election, I think they may be in trouble.

And the way they are changing election rules and redistricting Democrats may never win the house again
