Rupublicans are, blame democrats in politics for things they theyselves do.
user1

I don't understand your statement
user2

are you saying democrats are to blame for.....everything?
user2

No Both are to blame but Republicans are hypocritical.
user1

everyone is hypocritical. but since trump was elected, the system has tanked further
user2

i feel like the country was headed into the right direction with obama, then trump kinda blew us up and back into the 1950s
user2

I agree it is ridculous, nothing is getting done because they want to constantly play this he said she said game.
user1

I had hoped Biden would be helpful, but he is not forceful enough to fix this mess
user1

i feel like we have forgotten that we're a democratic country and that we're supposed to work together, that it isnt only about one side or another
user2

Hence why parties need to be abolished!
user1

I had hoped so too, but i feel like Russia has overpowered our whole political system and taken away from america's best interest
user2

interests* even
user2

No liberal, moderate, conservative.. People in Russia need to over through Putin period.
user1

i wish that they would/could. i don't think that there is an underground resistance that could do so.
user2

I have a hard time understanding why a large part of this country continues to even back Trump, considering all that is goiing on with Russia
user1

america will never do away from parties, or if they do, it will be centuries from now
user2

i can't understand how they do either
user2

he is such a poison
user2

Well if they don't we are heading for a civil war
user1

and talk about hypocritical!
user2

all he did and still does is hypocritical
user2

and he's just embarrassing and dumb
user2

They want to take us back 70 years t the 50"s
