Hi I am Jack here
user1

I am the supporter of Democratic party
user1

Hi Jack, I think Republicans are more hypocritical. They say they are pro life, but they do not care about life after birth.
user2

I think you are correct
user1

They object to the minimum wage, expanding medicare, voting rights and much more, which makes life difficult after you are born. So are they really pro life like they said?
user2

Yes what you have mention is absolutely correct
user1

Can you think of any reasons why they are hypocritical?
user2

May be their party system is like this
user1

They are also for the death penalty and having guns. That does not sound like pro life to me.
user2

i think this is their party character
user1

ok, apparently you are not familiar with what the republican party stands for.
