I think Republicans are more hypocritical.
user1

I agree that Republicans are more hypocritical. What we have going on right now is a perfect example of this with wanting to take away women's rights but not putting on any restrictions on guns.
user2

They claim to be pro life and to care about children, but they want to cut social programs that help children thrive and survive.
user1

Yes, the gun issue as well!
user1

Exactly, they have an agenda.
user2

It's all about power and money, very sad
user2

They don't want to raise minimum wage.
user1

They really don't care about people even though they claim to be religious and Christian.
user1

Democrats have many problems, but they do tend to care and back their actions up to their words.
user1

You say they have an sgenda?
user1

Agenda.
user1

Everything they do feels completely backwards. The religious point drives me crazy because no other country correlates religion with politics
user2

Yes, they are trying to take the country back to the stone age!
user1

Agreed, Democrats have there own set of issues but at least moving in the right direction.
user2

Yes moving forward and trying to make life better for ALL Americans.
