I think Republicans are more hypocritical than Democrats.
user1

Republicans are hypocritical by simply being in government, since they want less government.
user1

And they criticize others for not working, but in government they don't work at all.
user1

Definitely. The act like they care about the "Common Man" but do nothing but try to get richer.
user2

And they often vote for things which negatively affect regular people
user1

I used to at least try to relate to the Republican party but after all the incessant lies told during the Trump presidency, I have a hard time understanding their viewpoints and values.
user2