Hi. I have to ask, what is your political leaning? I am democratic, so I am curious.

I am democratic as well. I am liberal both socially and fiscally.

Okay. Thanks. I guess I would outright say that Republicans are more hypocritical, but that is just my first gut instinct.

I feel like they tend to follow the fold, or blind leading the blind, more so than democrats do.
user1

I would absolutely agree. They are hypocritical in my opinion because they tend to be very religious but they act in very unreligious ways when it comes to there conduct beliefs towards those who are less fortunate in our society.

I think they go with the popular stance in their party at the time, and will change point of view, and personal opinions, depending upon the political climate and how far they think.
