I have a very strong opinion about this, but I'm also curious to hear yours. I believe that Republicans are absolutely more hypocritical. For example, I heard a clip of a speech by Texas Gov. Greg Abbott last night, where he said that Democrats are trying to take away our constitutional rights. In light of all the voting restrictions passed over the past year by Republicans, I find that laughable. But what do you think?

I believe the Republicans tend to be more hypocritical by far. They way multiple senate members flip on issues is outrageous, especially when it comes to remarks on Trump.

I definitely agree with you. And yes, you're especially right about how they handle Trump. It's also been interesting to see all the flip flopping over the past week since Russia invaded Ukraine.

Completely laughable.

I know, right? And then to see so many of them refuse to attend Biden's State of the Union address last night.

Sadly, the Ukrainian people are going to suffer because NATO didn't allow them to join.
user2

I know. It's very sad to see what's happening.
