Oh wow. That's not even a contest. Republicans. They are literally hypocritical about everything.
user1

Republicans are more hypocritical, for sure.
user2

I think Republicans are more hypocritical! For example they tout family values but have no problem breaking up immigrant families without a thought.
user2

They say they're not racist and then try to enact the most racist laws they can think of.
user1

An example is abortion. They care so much about forcing people to give birth, but once a baby is born they don't want to provide assistance to the mom to help care for it and children are put in foster care.
user2

They'll speak out against something they're for if Joe Biden also happens to be for it.
user1

user2

And they don't want gay people to be able to adopt the kids they force into foster care.
user2

They say they are the party of the working class, but then go and give tax breaks to rich people and raise taxes for the working and middle class.
user2

All good points. Everyone who's not a bot say "not a bot!"
user1

The same rich Republicans who have all of their success through connections they made from their higher education don't want to make it easier and less expensive for others to be able to get higher education.
user2

not a bot!
user2

not a bot!
user2

not a bot!
user1

Cool, just checking. :)

:D
user2

Yeah, you both nailed it on the heads.
user1

good points all around.
user2

Yes. All great points.
