I think both parties are hypocritical
user1

I think both parties have their moments.
user2

I feel that Republicans are much more openly hypocritical, though.
user2

On a national level I do see this
user1

Especially with "it is my body"
user1

For example, they have been using the "my body, my choice" reasoning against masks and vaccines.
user2

Exactly!
user2

but it is not like that for my body my fetus
user1

Yet when it comes to women's rights, they believe their opinion matters.
user2

so it really is when it works in their favor sadly
user1

I don't think they are pro life, I think they are pro fetus. Once the woman has the baby, they are hands off and angry about all the "lazy people on welfare"
user2

Yet another example of being hypocritical.
user2

When its mostly poor republicans on welfare
user1

its quite funny
user1

Or when Trump won the election and they used the "get over it, he's your president" rhetoric. And when Biden won, they could not get over it.
user2

And said the election was stolen and actually undermined our democracy
user1

agree with all the points!!
