I think last night proved it was Republicans. We saw how terrible their behavior was at the state of the union after ridiculing Democrats for much less.
user1

On top of that we see the charges against Paxton who tries to smear other candidates who have been charged with much less.
user1

Agreed! Many profess to be strong Christians and then turn their backs on their constituents.
user2

We look at the critique of Bill Clinton and then they nominated Trump
user1

And, many support Putin.
user2

Although I don't know if that part is hypocritical, they've never hid their love for dictators
user1

They talk about how important life is and then don't take care of the babies after their born.
user2