Ted Cruz is a prime example - he very often criticizes liberal leaders, but does not live up to his own duties.

Also, republicans are the whole reason that the term "fake news" is still in-use and of concern today.

What are your thoughts?

Republicans are more thorough they supports lower taxes, deregulation, increased military spending, restrictions on abortion, restrictions on immigration, gun rights, and restrictions on labor unions

The prompt is about hypocrisy, not about the policies that they support.

As in, not practicing what they preach.
