Based on current political issues, I'd say republicans are more hypocritical
user1

They claim to be "pro-life" but have no concern for gun control
user1

They also claim to be concerned about constitutional rights, but really only for the 2nd amendment. Apparently the 14th amendment is irrelevant in terms of my right to privacy, but we always have to let them have a gun or we are infringing on their righta
user1

As much as it pains me to say this, because I am a Democrat, I think Democrats are more hypocritical. Look at how long it took them to approve covid relief because Pelosi and Schumer wanted extra things in the bills. Granted, McConnell was horrible too, but everyday I pulled up the news and it seemed the Dem's weren't budging because some random thing wasn't approved by the Republicans. The thing is, the overall the Republican's had no issue for the money for the people, just the extra things.

That being said, I agree that the Republicans are VERY hypocritical when it comes to Pro-Life
user2

they are absolutely fine with women dying from an ectopic pregnancy, or children dying in a school shooting, but also claim to believe that a fetus is a human
user1

I do feel that Democrats can be very hypocritical in regards to getting any legislation passed
user1

They won't do ANYTHING to help cut taxes for the poor and middle class AND WILL LET PEOPLE STARVE AND YET ACT LIKE THEY CARE ABOUT LIFE.
user2

Sorry caps
user2 haha its okay

user1

I agree, and as a teacher it makes me sick to think of what both parties put children through in the name of politics and political dollars
user1

I think both parties are hypocritical in that they really are concerned about where their political funding and campaign money comes from, however I feel that the Republican party claiming to be the party of "small government" is what indicates that they are more hypocritical
user1

See, I agree with you about gun control. Note, I am pro gun (even though I am liberal) but it's insane that the Republicans won't even agree that more rigid background checks need to happen. What's the arguement? The Dem's aren't saying that no one should have guns, just that we the people need to be checked out. The Republicans don't even want that and yet say they care about unborn babies.
user2

Yes, I agree with you about Republicans and claiming small government.
user2

I am also pro-gun, but there is no reason that someone can buy a gun at 18, or that there is no waiting period or background checks, and so many loopholes
user1

I also think that the elimination of any concealed carry laws is insane
user1

Absolutely! In my state they recently passed a law that anyone can conceal carry without a permit
user2

We are also in a dire formula shortage so pretending to care about babies is absurd. Republicans care about controlling people, controlling their bodies, and controlling their access to safety
