I think democratic politicians are more hypocritical because they pretend they are democrats but vote with republicans , who are owned by right wing billionaires and corporations all the time

I think Republicans are super hypocritical. They talk about how people should have the freedom to choose whether or not to wear masks and get vaccinated against covid, yet they are not pro-choice when it comes to pregnancy and abortions.

I agree with that also. both parties are bought and paid for. When republicans attack democrats , that is propaganda , because they are not talking respectfully to them. they are attacking and making personal attacks because that is all they can do.

I agree that both sides are hypocrites. The politicians just do whatever they can to get elected but they don't really care what happens to common people.
